

Contents

Preface	vii
Introduction: The Applied Turn in Contemporary Critical Theory John Forester	ix
I Capitalism with a New Face: Industrial Policy and Informational Capitalism
The Dialectic of Deindustrialization: An Essay on Advanced Capitalism Ben Agger	3
Critical Theory, the Informational Revolution, and an Ecological Path to Modernity Timothy W. Luke and Stephen K. White	22
II Critical Studies of Education
Decolonization and the Ideal Speech Community: Some Issues in the Theory and Practice of Communicative Competence John O'Neill	57
Education and Cultural Invasion: Critical Social Theory, Education as Instruction, and the "Pedagogy of the Oppressed" Dieter Misgeld	77

III The Constitution of Judgment: The Informed Citizen and the Critical Consumer

The American News Media: A Critical Theory Perspective 121
Daniel C. Hallin

Criticalness, Pragmatics, and Everyday Life: Consumer Literacy as Critical Practice 147
Peter Grahame

IV Planning Practice, Power, and Public Participation

Planning, Public Hearings, and the Politics of Discourse 177
Ray Kemp

Critical Theory and Planning Practice 202
John Forester

V Models of Policy Analysis

Critical Evaluation of Public Policy: A Methodological Case Study 231
Frank Fischer

The Policy Analysis–Critical Theory Affair: Wildavsky and Habermas as Bedfellows? 258
John Forester

VI Critical Historical Studies

Corruption of Freedom in America 283
Trent Schroyer

Modern and Postmodern Architecture 317
Jürgen Habermas

Contributors 331

Index 333