

Contents

Foreword	vii
MARGO HENDRICKS

Introduction	ix
CAROL MEJIA LAPERLE

Section I Racial Formations of Affective Communities

1. Imagining Islamicate Worlds: Race and Affect in the Contact Zone 1
AMBEREEN DADABHOY
2. Desire, Disgust, and the Perils of Strange Queenship in Edmund Spenser's The Faerie Queene 23
MIRA ASSAF KAFANTARIS
3. New World Encounters and the Racial Limits of Friendship in Early Quaker Life Writing 41
MEGHAN E. HALL
4. Early Modern Affect Theory, Racialized Aversion, and the Strange Case of Foetor Judaicus 57
DREW DANIEL

Section II Racialized Affects of Sex and Gender

5. Conversion Interrupted: Shame and the Demarcation of Jewish Women's Difference in The Merchant of Venice 79
SARA COODIN
6. Navigating a Kiss in the Racialized Geopolitical Landscape of Thomas Heywood's The Fair Maid of the West 99
KIRSTEN N. MENDOZA

7. Branded with Baseness: Bastardy and Race in King Lear 119
MARIO DiGANGI

Section III
Feelings and Forms of Anti-Blackness

8. Black Ink, White Feelings: Early Modern Print Technology and Anti-Black Racism 139
AVERYL DIETERING
9. "Away, You Ethiop!": A Midsummer Night's Dream and the Denial of Black Affect — A Song to Underscore the Burning of Police Stations 163
MATTHIEU CHAPMAN
10. Othello's Unfortunate Happiness 187
CORA FOX
11. The Racialized Affects of Ill-Will in the Dark Lady Sonnets 205
CAROL MEJIA LAPERLE