

Contents

List of features	v
Abbreviations	ix
Acknowledgments	x
About the author	x
Additional online resources	xi
A. Introducing sustainable development and sustainability management	1
A.1 History and status quo of sustainable development	2
A.1.1 A short history of sustainable development	2
A.1.2 Status quo of sustainable development	4
A.1.3 Sustainable development as a wicked problem	6
A.2 Concepts of sustainability and sustainable development	10
A.2.1 IPAT equation	10
A.2.2 Weak, strong, and quasi-sustainability	11
A.2.3 The Triple Bottom Line and the Sustainable Development Goals	12
A.2.4 Sustainability management, CSR, and corporate citizenship	15
A.3 Reasons for sustainable development and sustainability management	18
A.3.1 Ethical arguments for sustainable development	18
A.3.2 Ethical and moral reasons for sustainability management	20
A.3.3 Levels of corporate responsibility for sustainable development	22
A.3.4 The business case for sustainability management	26
A.4 Sustainability strategies	30
A.4.1 Decoupling of human development from ecological impact	30
A.4.2 Eco-efficiency	32
A.4.3 Eco-effectiveness	33
A.4.4 Sufficiency	35
A.4.5 The rebound effect	36
A.4.6 Strategy combinations and hybrid approaches	37
B. Stakeholder perspectives on sustainability management	41
B.1 Stakeholder management	42
B.1.1 Introduction to stakeholder management	42
B.1.2 Companies, stakeholder, and social legitimacy	45
B.1.3 Concepts of stakeholder management	47

B.2	Employees	54
B.2.1	Effects of sustainability management on employees	54
B.2.2	Influence of employees on sustainability management	55
B.2.3	Influence of (top)management on sustainability management	57
B.3	Governmental actors	60
B.3.1	Actors in legislation and regulation	60
B.3.2	Sustainability policy instruments	61
B.3.2.1	Command-and-control instruments	62
B.3.2.2	Information requirements and governmental support	63
B.3.2.3	Market-based instruments	65
B.3.3	Differences in regulatory regimes and welfare states	67
B.4	Civil society	70
B.4.1	Introduction into civil society and nongovernmental organizations	70
B.4.2	Confrontative strategies of nongovernmental organizations	74
B.4.3	Partnerships between companies and nongovernmental organizations	76
B.5	Investors	80
B.5.1	Background and recent developments of sustainable investments	80
B.5.2	Sustainable investment approaches	81
B.5.3	Sustainability-related ratings	84
B.5.4	Impact of sustainable finance	86
B.6	Consumers	90
B.6.1	Introduction to (un)sustainable consumption	90
B.6.2	Factors influencing (un)sustainable consumer behavior	91
B.6.3	Collaborative consumption and the sharing economy	95
C.	Instruments and functional perspectives of sustainability management	99
C.1	Sustainability marketing	100
C.1.1	Characterizing sustainability marketing	100
C.1.2	Sustainable product policy	101
C.1.3	Sustainable price policy	103
C.1.4	Sustainable promotion policy	105
C.1.5	Sustainable product placement	110
C.2	Sustainable human resource management	114
C.2.1	Fostering employees' sustainable behavior at work	114
C.2.2	Sustainable human resource management for employees	117
C.3	Sustainable supply chain management	122
C.3.1	Introduction to (sustainable) supply chain management	122
C.3.2	Supplier management for risks and performance	125
C.3.3	Supply chain management for sustainable products	129
C.3.4	Regulation and sustainable supply chain management	131

C.4	Sustainable production and logistics	134
C.4.1	Introduction to sustainability in production and logistics	134
C.4.2	Product development for sustainable product use	137
C.4.3	Sustainable reduction and recycling	139
C.4.4	Sustainability in logistics	141
C.5	Sustainable innovation management	148
C.5.1	Introduction to sustainability-oriented innovation	148
C.5.2	Approaches of sustainability-oriented innovation	150
C.5.3	Innovations and the "Base of the Pyramid"	152
C.6	Sustainability accounting	158
C.6.1	Introduction to sustainability accounting, management control, and reporting	158
C.6.2	Life cycle sustainability assessment	159
C.6.2.1	Environmental life cycle assessment	161
C.6.2.2	Life cycle costing	165
C.6.2.3	Social life cycle assessment	166
C.6.3	Carbon accounting	168
C.6.3.1	Emission scopes	168
C.6.3.2	From carbon accounting to carbon management and carbon offsetting	172
C.7	Sustainability management control	176
C.7.1	Codes of conduct	177
C.7.1.1	Content and forms	177
C.7.1.2	Applicability and usefulness	179
C.7.1.3	The UN Global Compact and ISO 26000	180
C.7.2	Management systems for sustainability	183
C.7.2.1	Introduction into management system (standards)	184
C.7.2.2	Environmental management system standards	185
C.7.2.3	Social (and integrated) management system standards	188
C.7.2.4	Audits and certification processes	191
C.7.3	Sustainability balanced scorecard	193
C.7.3.1	General approach of a balanced scorecard	193
C.7.3.2	Sustainability balanced scorecard types	194
C.7.3.3	Developing a sustainability balanced scorecard	197
C.8	Sustainability reporting	202
C.8.1	Introduction to sustainability reporting	202
C.8.2	Regulations and standards for sustainability reporting	205
C.8.3	Special topics and approaches in sustainability reporting	207
C.8.4	Credibility and assurance of sustainability information	210

C.9	Sustainable business models and alternative forms of organizations	214
C.9.1	Sustainable business models	214
C.9.2	Alternative forms of organizations	217
C.10	Digitalization and sustainability management	226
C.10.1	Digitalization as a challenge for sustainability and sustainability management	226
C.10.2	Digitalization as an enabler of sustainability and sustainability management	228
C.10.3	Elements of corporate digital responsibility	231
	Glossary	234
	References	244