

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments		vii
Chapter 1	The family--education couple	1
Part I	The family, schooling and the economy	13
	Introduction	15
Chapter 2	Schooling: a revolutionary invasion of parental rights over children?	21
Chapter 3	Parental responsibility for 'national efficiency'	42
Chapter 4	Education and economic life: a matter of parental right or duty?	63
Part II	The familial ambiance of schooling	93
	Introduction	95
Chapter 5	Rearing schoolchildren: paternalism or maternalism?	102
Chapter 6	The rise of the 'homely arts' and the demise of the homely teacher	127
Chapter 7	Professionalizing schools: maternalism in teaching and in the classroom	153

Contents

Part III	Contemporary issues in the family – education couple	179
	Introduction	181
Chapter 8	Reasserting parental rights to achieve economic efficiency	185
Chapter 9	Sex discrimination in teaching and the curriculum?	212
Chapter 10	Conclusions	239
	Bibliography	249
	Name index	268
	Subject index	271