

Table of Contents

Preface	vii
Abbreviations	ix
Books of Knowledge – Late Medieval Central Europe and Beyond PAVLÍNA CERMANOVÁ and VÁCLAV ŽŮREK	1
The Pseudo-Aristotelian Secret of Secrets : Encyclopedia or Book of Knowledge? STEVEN J. WILLIAMS	11
A Handbook for Everyone? Thomas of Cantimpré’s Book of Bees and Its Circulation in Late Medieval Europe JULIA BURKHARDT	35
Chess, Moral Principles, and Ancient Stories: The Success of Jacobus de Cessolis’s Liber de moribus and Other Classicising Works in Medieval Bohemia VÁCLAV ŽŮREK	59
The Pseudo-Bernardine Epistola de cura rei familiaris and its Reception in Medieval Bohemia and Moravia PAVEL BLAŽEK and BARBORA ŘEZNÍČKOVÁ	85
From Manual to Best-Seller: The History of Honorius Augustodunensis’s Elucidarium GLEB SCHMIDT	137
From Theology to Universal Knowledge: The Story of the Elucidarium and its Vernacular Adaptations in the Czech Lands (Fourteenth-Fifteenth Centuries) JAROSLAV SVÁTEK	165
A ‘Book of Knowledge’? The De tribus punctis christianae religionis (1316) by Thomas Hibernicus and its Heyday in Late Medieval Bohemia LUCIE DOLEŽALOVÁ	183

Patterns of Knowledge in Late Medieval Historiography: The Chronologia Magna of Paolino Veneto NADINE HOLZMEIER	203
Reading the Early Church: A Witness from Kutná Hora of the Chronicon pontificum et imperatorum by Martin of Opava VOJTĚCH BAŽANT	229
The Physiologus Theobaldi : A Most Successful Bestiary in Medieval Schools and Monasteries BAUDOIN VAN DEN ABEELE	247
Christian of Prachatice's Latin Herbarium and its Adaptations in Old Czech Literature DANA STEHLÍKOVÁ	275
The Aims of Perspectiva in 1360s Paris: Investigating Texts Written in the Hand of Reimbotus de Castro LUKÁŠ LIČKA	299
Sharing Academic Knowledge: Commentaries on the Secretum secretorum PAVLÍNA CERMANOVÁ	331
Index of Names and Works	361
Index of Manuscripts	372