

Contents

Foreword	vii
Contributors	viii
Introduction
Ron Howard and Ian McGrath	1
1 The Advantages and Disadvantages of Distance Education
John Cowan	14
2 Distance Education for Teacher Training: International Experience
Hilary Perraton	21
3 Language Teacher Training by Distance Learning: Models of Delivery
Robert Leach	35
4 'You Are Your Own Best Resource': Promoting Confidence and Autonomous Learning in Teacher Education at a Distance — A Case Study
Elsbeth Broady	49
5 Pre-service Training for Language Teachers: Face-to-Face or at a Distance?
Ian McGrath	66
6 The Contribution of a Face-to-Face Component in Initial Teacher Training at a Distance
Teresa Haworth and Ray Parker	78
7 Distance Education for Language Teachers and Educational Technology
Gary Motteram	95
8 Virtual Language Schools: Overcoming the Problem of Distance in the Training of Language Teachers
Charles Jennings	104
9 Interaction Across Computer-Conferencing
Christina Howell-Richardson	118
10 Inputs and Outputs of Distance Education
Richard West and Gillian Walsh	133

11	Direction and Debate in Distance Materials for Teacher Development Keith Richards	142
12	Monitoring the Effectiveness of Distance Learning as a Means of Partially Delivering Teacher Education Ray Parker and Tim Graham	161
13	From Teaching Materials to Teacher Induction: A Progress Report Hélène Mulphin	174
14	Formation à Distance: Learning Strategies Beverly Hallam	182
15	Concepts of Quality in Distance Education David Carver	193
	Index	207