

Contents

Preface	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv
List of Tables	xvii
1. Introduction	1
What Is a Senior Center?	3
Theories and Models	5
The Importance of Senior Centers	7
Points of Departure	8
Sources of Information	10
Organization of Book	11
Chapter Summary	11
References	12
2. Growth and Development: A Historical Overview	15
Introduction	15
The 1940s and 1950s: The Early Years	15
The 1960s: The WHCoA and the OAA	16
The 1970s: Explosive Growth and Change	18
The 1980s: Slowing Growth and Expanding Functions	22
Research Questions	25

Chapter Summary	26
References	27
3. Organizational Characteristics	29
Introduction	29
Philosophy and Goals	29
Organizational Type	33
Facilities	34
Budget Size and Sources	37
Staffing Patterns	40
Senior Center Linkages	43
Research Questions	43
Chapter Summary	46
References	46
4. Programming	49
Introduction	49
Conceptualizations of Programs	49
Programming Expansion	50
Factors Associated with Programming	58
Programming for Special Needs	59
Programming Linkages	61
Satisfaction with Programming	62
Research Questions	62
Chapter Summary	63
References	64
5. Awareness, Attitudes, and Utilization	67
Introduction	67
Awareness and Knowledge	67
Correlates and Sources of Awareness	70
Utilization Rates	72
Participant Characteristics	74
Research Questions	76

Contents	xi
Chapter Summary	77
References	78
6. Participants and Participation	81
Introduction	81
Socio-demographic, Health, and Access Factors	81
Social Contact	85
Variation in Attendance	88
Implications of Findings for Models	94
Research Questions	96
Chapter Summary	97
References	98
7. Linkages and the Community Services Network	101
Introduction	101
Diversity of Linkages	101
Extent of and Reasons for Linkages	105
Linkage Organizations	108
Linkage Services and Types of Assistance	111
Linkage Barriers	114
Linkage Changes	118
Research Questions	119
Chapter Summary	121
References	122
8. Programming and Policy Issues	123
Introduction	123
Focal Points and the Community Based Services System	124
Serving the Frail Elderly	126
Impact and Effectiveness	131
Use of Resources	133
Research Questions	135
Chapter Summary	136
References	137

9. Summary and Conclusions	139
The Road Traveled	139
Overview of Major Findings	140
What Needs to be Learned	143
Looking Toward the Future	145
References	148
Bibliography	149
Index	155