

Contents

Introduction	vii
PART I: The Natures of the New Rhetorics
1. A Contention Over the Term Rhetoric CHARLES BAZERMAN	3
2. Viewing the Dawns of Our Past Days Again: Classical Rhetoric as Reconstructive Literacy RICHARD LEO ENOS	8
3. Some Issues in Dating the Birth of the New Rhetoric in Departments of English: A Contribution to a Developing Historiography RICHARD YOUNG and MAUREEN DALY GOGGIN	22
4. Rhetoric and Composition Studies: A Multimodal Discipline JANICE M. LAUER	44
5. Writing the New Rhetoric of Scholarship LOUISE WETHERBEE PHELPS	55
6. Rhetoric and Community: The Problem of the One and the Many CAROLYN R. MILLER	79
7. From Rhetoric Into Other Studies JIM W. CORDER	95
PART II: Implications and Applications of the New Rhetorics
8. Further Thoughts on the End of Rhetoric S. MICHAEL HALLORAN	109
9. Rhetoric Is Epistemic: What Difference Does That Make? ROBERT L. SCOTT	120

10. Poststructuralism, Semiotics, and Social-Epistemic Rhetoric: Converging Agendas JAMES A. BERLIN	137
11. Expressive Rhetoric: A Source Study CHRISTOPHER C. BURNHAM	154
12. Cognitive Rhetoric: Inquiry Into the Art of Inquiry LINDA FLOWER	171
13. A Rhetoric of Bumper Stickers: What Analytic Philosophy Can Contribute to a New Rhetoric REED WAY DASENBROCK	191
14. Developing a Postmodern Ethics of Rhetoric and Composition JAMES E. PORTER	207
15. Newsweek "My Turn" Columns and the Concept of Rhetorical Genre: A Preliminary Study RICHARD FULKERSON	227
Index	244
About the Editors	259
About the Authors	260