

Contents

Acknowledgments	7
Abbreviations	11
Prologue. A Note on Defining Genres	15 G
1. Elegiac Romance: A Modern Tradition	26
Historical Context: The Quest Romance Tradition
Pastoral Elegy
An Outline of Elegiac Romance
The Hero in Modern Fiction
Psychological and Epistemological Fiction
Loosening the Grip of the Past
2. Formal and Thematic Genesis in Conrad's Early Fiction	73
Narrator and Narrative Focus: Tapping the Spring-Flood of Memory
Narrator and Plot: Coming to Terms with the Past
Narrator and Character Type: Delusion and Self-Mastery
The Mind of Men
3. "Understand the Effect of It on Me": A Lesson in Reading Elegiac Romance	96
Poor Chap: Kurtz as Sympathetic Hero
A Kind of Light: Dramatized Insight
Our Common Fate: Narrator, Reader, and Rhetorical Judo

CONTENTS

4. "Under the Surface of Familiar Emotions": Some Psychological Assumptions of Elegiac Romance Prefigured in Conrad Stretching the Limits of Reality Involuntary Memory, Involuntary Acts "The Secret Sensibility of My Egoism"	113
5. "I See Now": Elegiac Romance as Epistemological Fiction "A Story of the West After All": The Great Gatsby An Unconscious Source of Knowledge: The Good Soldier "How Was I to Know?": All the King's Men Breakthrough: Doctor Faustus	133
6. Varieties of Elegiac Romance The End of Childhood: "Seymour: An Introduction," A Separate Peace , The Real Life of Sebastian Knight "The Illusions of My Beginnings": Huxley, Bromfield, Saint-Exupéry	176
7. Radical Variations "Interiorized" Form: Borges, Kafka, Landolfi, Nabokov Symbolic Modulation: Film and Drama "An Intelligent and Observant Woman"	201
Epilogue. Why Write Elegiac Romance?: The Biographical Dimension	218
Appendix. A Handlist of Elegiac Romance	223
Index	227