

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Preface	xiii
A Note on Texts and Translations	xvi
CHAPTER ONE. Tapestry Figures	1
CHAPTER TWO. Ovid and Metamorphosis	19
1. The Book of Changes	19
2. Metamorphosis and the Nature of Things	27
3. Metamorphosis and the Faces of Divine Power	37
4. Metamorphosis and the Ties that Bind	56
5. Destinies Manifest and Reshaped	66
6. Changes to End Change	78
CHAPTER THREE. Metamorphosis in the Middle Ages:
Figura and Cosmos	94
1. Hermeneutic Wars	95
2. Demystification, Allegory, Integumentum	103
3. Natura and Fabula	117
4. Metamorphic Dramas, Cosmic and Microcosmic	126
CHAPTER FOUR. Taccia Ovidio : Metamorphosis, Poetics, and Meaning in Dante's Inferno	137
1. Contrapasso and Mirror	140

2. Mutare e trasmutare	149
3. Rhetoric and Images	163
CHAPTER FIVE. Metamorphosis, Paganism, and the Renaissance Imagination	171
1. Before the Ovidian Renaissance	172
2. A Renaissance of Images; Correggio and Titian	175
3. Metamorphic Passions: Petrarch and Ronsard	206
4. Triumphs and Ceremonies	221
5. Fusions: Platonism and Spenser	231
CHAPTER SIX. Shakespeare and the Metamorphoses of Art and Life	243
1. Reading the Book of Ovid	243
2. Ovid "Translated"	251
3. Antiquity, Metamorphosis, and Shakespeare's Imagination	270
Notes	289
Illustrations	357
Index	389