

CONTENTS

Introduction to Series	ix
Foreword	xi
Acknowledgements	xv
List of Contributors	xvii
List of Illustrations	xix
Introduction	1
PART I
1. Suriname: 1975–1989. Domestic and foreign policies under military and civilian rule Betty Sedoc-Dahlberg	17
2. Suriname and the military Tony Thorndike	35
3. Politics and Government in Curaçao Peter C. Verton	63
4. Decolonization of Aruba within the Netherlands Antilles Robertico Croes and Lucita Moenir Alam	81
5. Bonaire within the Dutch Antilles Ank Klomp	103
6. Sint Maarten: the Dutch half in future perspective Fabian Badejo	119
PART II
7. The Dutch Caribbean and transitions in United States-Caribbean relations Michael Allen	151

8.	Struggle for democracy in Suriname Betty Sedoc-Dahlberg	173
9.	Love among the ruins: the United States and Suriname Gary Brana-Shute	191
10.	The Dutch decolonization: independence for the Netherlands Antilles Peter C. Verton	203
11.	Venezuela's relations with Curaçao and Aruba: historical linkages and geopolitical interests Rita Giacalone	219
12.	The future of the Netherlands Antilles Harry Hoetink	241
PART III
13.	Decolonization in the Dutch Caribbean: lessons from the Commonwealth Caribbean Alma H. Young	253
14.	Struggle and synthesis: toward theory for the Dutch Caribbean experience Michael H. Allen	269
	Appendix: General information about the Dutch Caribbean	289
	Bibliography	309
	Index	325