

Contents

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Introduction “Power beside the office of a pulpit”:Reformed Ministry, Radical Verse           | 1   |
| 1 “Numbred, and measured, and weighed”: John Donne andthe Meaning of Metaphor                 | 37  |
| 2 “O let thy blessed Spirit bear a part”: Communal Music inGeorge Herbert’s The Temple | 80  |
| 3 “One friendly flood”: Richard Crashaw’s Baptismal Poetics                                       | 114 |
| 4 “Separate to God”: Self-Centered Syntax in John Milton’sSamson Agonistes             | 155 |
| Coda “A Pulpit in my Mind”: Thomas Traherne’sSilent Ministry                                  | 194 |
| Works Cited  | 211 |
| Index  | 229 |