

Contents

Preface	ix
I HEIDEGGER'S WAY OF THOUGHT
1 Heidegger's Way	3
The Development of Heidegger's Thought	6
Heidegger's Method	40
Heidegger's Language	53
II BEING AND TIME
2 The Problem of the Meaning of Being	87
Necessity, Structure, and Preeminence of the Problem	87
The Twofold Task of the Investigation	93
The Nature of the Phenomenological Method	98
3 Man and World	110
The Nature of the Task	110
Being-in-the-world	114
The Concept of the World	118
Being-with, Selfhood, and Everyman	137
4 Man's Existential Structure	153
Disposition, Understanding, Interpretation, and Speech	154
Man's Everyday Being and Forfeiture	169
Care as the Being of Man—Reality and Truth	174
5 Wholeness and Authenticity	205
Man's Wholeness and Existential Concept of Death	207
Authenticity, Conscience, and Resoluteness	221

6	Man and Temporality	240
	Resoluteness, Selfhood, and the Temporal Sense of Care	241
	The Temporality of Man's Overtness	254
	The Temporal Structure of Being-in-the-world	261
7	Historicity and the Concept of Time	276
	The Nature of Historicity	276
	The Vulgar Conception of Time	291
III THE ROOTS OF METAPHYSICAL THINKING
8	Early Essays and the "Reversal"	315
	The Early Essays	316
	The Reversal of Thought and the "Letter on Humanism"	331
9	Heidegger and the Western Metaphysical Tradition	355
	Heidegger's Approach to Past Thought	355
	The Greek Thinkers	367
	The Modern Age	381
10	The Question of Being	416
	Being and Metaphysical Thought	419
	Truth of Being—Ereignis and Geviert	430
	Language, Truth, Time, and Thought	444
	The Saving Leap	462
	Bibliography	483
	Index	501