

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vi
Introduction	1
1 Material Culture at the Crossroads of Knowledge: The Case of the Benin 'Bronzes'	7
2 Voices in the Wilderness: Critics of Empire	29
3 Aesthetic Pleasure and Institutional Power	43
4 The Spectacle of Empire 1: Expansionism and Philanthropy at the Stanley and African Exhibition	63
5 The Spectacle of Empire 2: Exhibitionary Narratives	85
6 Temples of Empire: The Museum and its Publics	109
7 Containing the Continent: Ethnographies on Display	129
8 'For God and For England': Missionary Contributions to an Image of Africa	161
9 National Unity and Racial and Ethnic Identities: The Franco-British Exhibition of 1908	187
Conclusion	214
Epilogue: Inventing the 'Post-Colonial'	217
Notes	226
Bibliography	259
Index	276