

Table of Contents

---

Acknowledgements	xi
List of Abbreviations	xiii
Introduction: "To fail as no other dare fail"	1
"Hearing nothing saying nothing capable of nothing": Representations of Disability
Chapter One: The Damaged Brain: Ruptures in Perception and Memory	23
Using Psychology to Depict the World	23
Alternative Configurations of the Mind: The Case of Murphy	27
Perception and Confusion	30
The Decline of Memory	34
Chapter Two: The Fragmented Speech: The Impossibility of Communication and the Road to Silence	39
The Obsolescence of Language and the Inability to Express	39
The Linguistic Approach: The Case of Watt	45
The Discursive Approach	49
Chapter Three: The Broken Body: Motility, Paralysis and Isolation	55
Movement, Life as Wandering and the Case of Molloy	55

Paralysis	60
Obsolescence and Dissolution of the Body	62
Chapter Four: Disability in Samuel Beckett: The Trauma of Life and the
Contagious Nature of Resilience	67
Life as Trauma	67
Disability and Artistic Message	70
Contagious Resilience as the Essence of Samuel Beckett	73
 "Man or woman, what does it matter?": Representations of Gender
Chapter Five: Men as Agents: Narration, Impotence and the Loss of
Masculine Mastery	83
Masculinity, Crisis and Samuel Beckett	83
The Feminization of Samuel Beckett's Writing	84
The Loss of Male Mastery: The Case of Malone Dies	89
Chapter Six: The Representation of Men: Rejection of Hegemonic
Masculinity and of the Heterosexual Matrix	97
On Masculinities and Representation	97
Alternative Configurations of Masculinity in the Novels	99
The Rejection of the Heterosexual Matrix	105
Chapter Seven: The Representation of Women: Deactivation of the
Feminine Mystique	113
Misogyny in the Novels	113
The Feminine Mystique: The Case of Dream of Fair to Middling Women	115
The Problem of the Voice: Character vs Narrator vs Author	123
Feminine Writing	127
Chapter Eight: Gender in Samuel Beckett: A System of Reciprocal
Dependency	131
The Dissolution of Gender and the Advance Towards Abstraction	131
Changes in the Interactions Between Men and Women	134
From Gender Relationships to Dependency Relationships	141
 "I was always aged, always ageing": Representations of Old Age
Chapter Nine: The Life Course and Its Meaning: Aging and the Novels	147
On Aging Studies and Samuel Beckett	147
Youth in the Novels	151
Memory, Time and Reaching Old Age	154

Chapter Ten: The End of Wandering: Representations of Old Age and Death	159
On the Effects of Aging	159
Impairment and Rejection of the Idea of Aging	162
Death in the Novels	165
Chapter Eleven: Old Age in Samuel Beckett: Intersections, the Social Stigma and Taking a Stand	171
Gendering Aging Studies
Intersections Between Systems of Oppression	175
Social Stigmas and Taking a Stand	177
Conclusions: "Making the best of a bad job"	183
Index	195