

CONTENTS

Domitor Series – Précis 1

Introduction: Provenance and Early Cinema:
From Preservation and Collection to Circulation and Repurposing / Joanne Bernardi, Paolo Cherchi Usai, Tami Williams, and Joshua Yumibe 3

Part I. Studying Provenance: From Analog to Digital

- 1 Film Provenance: A Framework for Analysis /
Paolo Cherchi Usai 23
- 2 Origins: Early Films and Archival Collections /
Camille Blot-Wellens 34
- 3 From Provenience to Provenance: The Kerstrat-d’Hauterives
Collection / Germain Lacasse 47
- 4 Provenance and Film Historiography: 1910s Films at the George Eastman Museum / Grazia Ingravalle 59
- 5 Issues of Provenance and Attribution for the Canon:
Bookending Robert Paul / Ian Christie 70
- 6 Shattered Provenance in the Digitization of Early Color
Films / Barbara Flueckiger, Noemi Daugaard, and Olivia Kristina Stutz 80

Part II. Preservation and Collection

- 7 Dreaming in Color: The Image and the Artifact /
Joshua Yumibe 93

- 8 Where Did the Costumes in Early Cinema Come From? / Priska Morrissey 106
- 9 Thinking with Provenance: Drawing Trajectories in the Francis Doublier Collection at the George Eastman Museum / Clara Auclair 118
- 10 Revisiting the Films of Albert Kahn's Archives de la Planète: A Material Survey / Teresa Castro and Anne Sigaud 129
- 11 The Thanhouser Studio Filmography: Analysis and Extant Prints / Ned Thanhouser 143
- 12 The Great War at Scale: New Opportunities for Provenance in World War I Collections at the National Archives (NARA) / Bret Vukoder and Mark Williams 155

Part III. Circulation

- 13 Chicago's "Censored Casualties" and the Provenance of Archive Prints / Richard Abel 169
- 14 What Made the Mechanicals Move? Postcards in Transit / Patrick Ellis 179
- 15 "The End of a Foreign Monopoly": Bausch and Lomb and the Wartime Provenance of Optical Glass / Allain Daigle 192
- 16 Pathé Films in Brazil: The Archives of Marc Ferrez & Sons (1908–1916) / Danielle Crepaldi Carvalho 203
- 17 Establishing the Provenance of Early Advertising Films: Film Catalogs and the Creation of the Nontheatrical Market / Martin L. Johnson 214
- 18 A Journey on the World's Most Northerly Railway: The Renaming and Remaking of Swedish Industrial Films / Marina Dahlquist 223

- 19 In Search of “The Edison Biograph Company”:
Film History through Philippine Archives /
Nadi Tofighian 236
- 20 Ownership, Exploitation, Stewardship: Tracking the Footage of the 1911–1913 Australian Antarctic Expedition /
Gregory A. Waller 247

Part IV. Repurposing

- 21 Finding Early Cinema in the Avant-Garde:
Research and Investigation / André Habib 261
- 22 Ernie Gehr’s The Collector (2003) and Ernie Gehr
the Collector / Ken Eisenstein 275
- 23 Flicker: Thom Andersen Takes Muybridge to the Movies /
Eszter Polonyi 287
- 24 Provenance on Ice: Dawson City: Frozen Time and the Dawson City Collection / Charlie Keil and Christina Stewart 305
- 25 Praxis as Media Historiography: The Peep Box’s
“Expanding View” as Virtual Reality /
Christina Corfield 317
- 26 How Newspaper Novels and Their Illustrations
Shaped Japanese Films / Norie Taniguchi 329
- 27 Archival Object or Object Lesson? Bricolage as Process and as Concept in the Edmundo Padilla Collection /
Kim Tomadjoglou 340

Appendix: French Language Essay

- 28 La collection de Kerstrat-d’Hauterives, de sa provenience à sa provenance / Germain Lacasse 353

Appendix: French Language Essay

- 29 D'où viennent les costumes du cinéma des premiers temps? / Priska Morrissey 365

Appendix: Dryden Theatre Screening Program 377

Index 407