

Studying British Cultures

An Introduction

Edited by
SUSAN BASSNETT

London and New York

Contents

General editor's preface	vii
Contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	xii
Introduction: studying British cultures Susan Bassnett	xiii

Part 1

1 But what is Cultural Studies? Antony Easthope	3
2 Facts and meanings in British Cultural Studies Alan Durant	19
3 British Studies: an educational perspective Christopher Brumfit	39
4 Cultural Studies and foreign language teaching Michael Byram	53
5 Fictional maps of Britain David Punter	65

Part 2

6 Dedefining Scotland Robert Crawford	83
7 Cymru or Wales? Explorations in a divided sensitivity Katie Gramich	97

vi Contents

8	A view of the present state of Irish Studies Sabina Sharkey	113
9	Teaching West Indian literature in Britain David Dabydeen	135
10	Shakespeare in quotations John Drakakis	152
	Bibliography	173
	Index	195