

Contents

I. History of the Reception of Hoffmannswaldau's Work	I
1. Contemporary Baroque Reception	4
2. The Age of Enlightenment	11
3. The Bourgeois Era	14
4. The Rediscovery of Baroque Literature	19
5. Ethical Rehabilitation of Hoffmannswaldau	29
II. Chronology of Composition: The Manuscripts	35
1. Ms.germ.oct. 232	38
Distinctive Traits of the Specific Poems	39
2. R. 2890	41
Distinctive Traits of R. 2890	42
Textual Characteristics of R. 2890	43
Tentative Conclusions	45
3. Ms.germ.fol. 768	46
4. M. 216	46
5. Reasons for the Progression Ms.germ.fol. 768, M. 216 in Third and Fourth Place	47
Textual Evidence	48
6. IVF 88	51
7. Cod.III. 3. 2. 14	51
8. R. 831	51
9. Reasons for the Progression IVF 88, Cod.III. 3. 2. 14, R. 831 ..	51
Confirmations of this General Chronology	57
10. The Printed Edition	57
Table of Chronology	60
III. The Genre of the Heroid	61
1. Hoffmannswaldau's Models	61
2. Hoffmannswaldau's Imitators	64

3.	Hoffmannswaldau and Ovid's »Heroides«	65
4.	Formal Comparison between the »Heroides« and the »Heldenbriefe«	66
5.	Comparisons in Content: Hoffmannswaldau's Opposition to Ovid	72
6.	The Significance of Hoffmannswaldau's »Liebes-schreiben des Leanders an seine Hero«	78
7.	Drayton and Hoffmannswaldau	85
8.	Hoffmannswaldau and Lohenstein	104
9.	Hoffmannswaldau and Besser	119
10.	The Influence of Michiele	123
IV.	The Work: Form and Content	125
1.	The Original Structure of the Cycle	127
2.	Aspects of the Conception of Love	137
V.	The Work: Technique	152
1.	Language	153
2.	Prosody	156
3.	Imagery: The Traditional Theories	161
4.	Imagery: A New Approach	167
5.	Rhythm	170
VI.	The Work: Fact and Fiction	176
	Historical Table	177
1.	Balduin and Judith	178
2.	Ludwig and Adelheide	181
3.	Heinrich and Eva	184
4.	Ludwig von Gleichen and his Two Wives	186
5.	Przetislaus and Jutta	189
6.	Aleran and Adelheide	192
7.	Albrecht and Agnes	194
8.	Friedrich and Eleonore	196
9.	Ferdinand and Philippine	199
10.	Eginhard and Emma	202
11.	Reinier and Algerthe	205
12.	Rudolph and Ermegarde	208
13.	The Additional Heroids	211

VII. Baroque Contradiction	219
1. The Struggle against Censorship	220
2. Hoffmannswaldau's Conception of the Baroque World-Split ..	225
3. The Baroque Dichotomy Law-Love	227
4. The Baroque Dichotomy Death-Love	228
5. Baroque Dichotomy Surmounted: Love is Reciprocity	230
6. Dichotomy Surmounted: Erotico-Theology, or the Religious Exculpation of Love	231
7. Dichotomy Surmounted: Naturalistic Humanism	234
8. The Final Transcendence of the Baroque in the Heroic Epistles	238
9. The Contradiction Love-Death	239
10. The Contradiction Love-Law	241
11. Erotico-Theology in the Heroic Epistles	245
12. Naturalistic Humanism in the Heroic Epistles	249
13. The Ultimate Resolution	252
 Bibliography	 255
 Index	 263