

Contents

Ch 1	Theoretical Issues and Historical Perspectives . . . . .	1
Ch 2	The Creation of the "Third Sex" . . . . .	43
Ch 3	The Homosexual Rights Movement, 1896-1918 . . . . .	93
Ch 4	Adolf von Wilbrandt: The Beginning of the Medical Discourse in Literature . . . . .	115
Ch 5	The Conservative Response to the "Third Sex" . . . . .	129
Ch 6	The Lesbian Figure . . . . .	143
Ch 7	The "Third Sex" Demands Its Rights . . . . .	173
Ch 8	The Diffusion of the Medical Discourse . . . . .	201
Ch 9	The Freudian Model: Homosexuality as a Stage of Adolescence . . . . .	229
Ch 10	The Beginning of a Literacy Discourse on Homosexuality . . . . .	247
Ch 11	John Henry Mackay and Thomas Mann: Contrasting Treatments of Homosexuality in the Wilhelmine Period . . . . .	263
Ch 12	Conclusion . . . . .	295

Bibliography

Primary Literature . . . . .	309
Secondary Literature: History of Homosexuality and the Homosexual Rights Movement . . . .	314
Secondary Literature: Homosexuality and Fiction . . . .	329
Index . . . . .	341