

Contents

	Page
PREFACE
INTRODUCTION	1
1. The textual tradition	1
2. Parmenides' poetic dialect	7
3. The form of the poem	9
(i) Parmenides' debt to Homer	9
(ii) The way of the goddess and the journey of persuasion	12
(iii) Cosmology and myth	13
4. Parmenides' criticism of earlier philosophers	17
5. Parmenides' investigation of the nature of Being	19
6. Parmenides' influence on philosophy in the fifth century B.C.	22
7. Parmenides' influence on the theory of Forms	26
8. The criticism of Parmenides' monism in the fourth century B.C.	29
9. Parmenides' philosophy in the Hellenistic and Roman period	33
10. The biographical tradition	37
TEXT AND TRANSLATION OF THE FRAGMENTS	41
THE ANCIENT TESTIMONIA	95
COMMENTARY	156
APPENDIX:
I Zeno's argument about magnitude	257
II Zeno's argument about plurality	261
III Zeno's paradox of the arrow	262
IV Melissus' argument against pluralism	264
INDEX
I Testimonia	267
II Commentary
1. Subjects	268
2. Greek words and phrases	269
3. Proper names (Introduction and Commentary)	272

CONCORDANCE

276

I Fragments

277

II Testimonia