

CONTENTS

PREFACE, Paul Kurtz	vii
INTRODUCTION, James A. Moss	xiii
I. POWER AND POWERLESSNESS	1
Black and White on Black and White, by Joseph and Clorinda Margolis	3
The Ethics of Power in the Black Revolution, by Nathan Wright, Jr.	13
Is America a Civilized Nation? by Whitney M. Young, Jr.	23
II. INTEGRATION	29
The Future of Integration, by Martin Luther King, Jr.	31
The Negro and American Values, a conversation between James Farmer and Algernon D. Black	42
A New Vision, A Better Tomorrow, by Julian Bond	50
Rebuilding the Cities, by Carl B. Stokes	54
Where Is the Negro Movement Now? a conversation with Bayard Rustin, and others	61

III. SEPARATION AND THE BLACK REVOLUTION	85
Tears for the Pigs, by Eldridge Cleaver	87
Black Politics, by Dick Gregory	91
The Black Lawyer, by Robert L. Carter	97
In Defense of Black Studies, by James A. Moss	110
American Liberalism, Source of Negro Radicalism, by Howard Zinn	132
Pan-African Activism in the 20th Century by Anne Forrester Holloway	142
The Black Revolution: A Primer for White Liberals, by Charles V. Hamilton	155
NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS	163