

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION: The Family and Literature	1
CHAPTER I: Ideology of the Family in the 19th Century	7
1. The Effects of Industrialization and Individualism on the Family
2. The Ethical Role of the Family
3. The Family versus Universal Piety
4. The Family Dialectic in the Imagination
CHAPTER II. Importance of the Family for Adalbert Stifter	29
1. The Search for Natural Standards of Morality: Stifter's Understanding of Literature
2. The Cultural and Ontological Significance of the Family
3. "Vervollkommnung": The Family's Role in Education and Social Progress
CHAPTER III: Overcoming Isolation and Establishing Continuity in the Studien	51
1. Love and Marriage: The Defeat of Passion
2. Heredity and Posterity: Accepting Individual Responsibility
3. Nature's Formative Influence: Integration and "Entsagung" in "Das Heidedorf"
4. The Dangers of Excessive Familial Love: Misunderstanding Human Nature in "Der Hochwald"

CHAPTER IV: Family and Property in the Bunte Steine	79
1. The Preface: A Philosophical, Moral and Aesthetic Manifesto
2. The Purpose of Wealth: Providing Security for Children
3. Tying the Family to the Land: Close Proximity to Nature
4. Moral Depravity in City Life
5. The Limited Role of the Imagination in Family Life
 CHAPTER V: Nachsommer: Family as Model for Human Relationships	111
1. Middle-class Ethos and Aristocratic Culture
2. Education in the Patriarchal “Kleinfamilie”
3. The Principle of Similarity in Stifter’s Hierarchy of Love
 CONCLUSION: Other Literary Approaches to the Family	133
 NOTES	145
 SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY	167
 INDEX	177