

Contents

---

Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
Introduction	1
1. Complications of Intertextuality: John Fisher, Katherine Parr and 'The Book of the Crucifix' Janel Mueller	15
2. Southwell's Remains: Catholicism and Anti-Catholicism in Early Modern England Arthur F. Marotti	37
3. 'A very good Trumpet': Richard Hakluyt and the Politics of Overseas Expansion Pamela Neville-Sington	66
4. Sidney's Arcadia as Cultural Monument and Proto-Novel Peter Lindenbaum	80
5. The Triumph of Time: The Fortunate Readers of Robert Greene's Pandosto Lori Humphrey Newcomb	95
6. Editing Sexuality, Narrative and Authorship: The Altered Texts of Shakespeare's Lucrece Sasha Roberts	124
7. The Birth of the Author Richard Dutton	153
8. Mending and Bending the Occasional Text: Collegiate Elegies and the Case of 'Lycidas' Cedric C. Brown	179
9. Between the 'Triumvirate of wit' and the Bard: The English Dramatic Canon, 1660–1720 Paulina Kewes	200

10. Friends or Lovers? Sensitivity to Homosexual Implications in Adaptations of Shakespeare, 1640–1701 Paul Hammond	225
Index	248