

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION

I. Biography	15
II. The poems : canon	50
III. The poems : influence and reputation	59
IV. The poems : evaluation	70
V. The text	84
VI. Abbreviations used in footnotes	105

POEMS

To his absent Diana	109
To the Gentlemen Readers	110
THE PRINTER TO the Reader	111
VNTO HER MAIEsties sacred honorable Maydes	112
H. C. Sonets
To his Mistrisse	113
The order of the booke	114
The first 7 only of the byrth and beginning of his loue
Sonet I	115
Of the byrth of his loue	116
Of the conspiracie of his Ladies eyes and his owne to in- gender loue	117
Of the suddeyne surprizing of his hearte, and how vnawares he was caught	118
Of the discouragement he had to proceed in loue through the multitude of his Ladies perfections and his owne lownesse	119
How he encouraged himselfe to proceede in loue and to hope for favoure in the ende at Loues hands	120
An excuse to his Mistrisse for resolving to loue so worthy a creature	121

CONTENTS

The second 7 of his Ladies prayse

An exhortation to the reader to come and see his Mistrisse beautie	122
Sonet 2	123
Of the excellencye of his Ladies voyce	124
Of her excellencye both in singing and instruments	125
Of the prowesse of his Ladie	126
Of the envie others beare to his Ladie for the former perfections	127
Of the slander enuye giues him for so highlye praysing his Mistrisse	128

The thyrd 7 of seuerall occasions and accidents happening in the life tyme of his loue

Of his Mistrisse vpon occasion of her walking in a garden	130
To his Ladies hand vpon occasion of her gloue which in her absence he kissed	131
Of his Ladies vayle wherewith she covered her	132
To his Mistrisse vpon occasion of a Petrarch he gaue her, shewing her the reason why the Italian Commenters dissent so much in the exposition thereof	133
Of his Mistrisse vpon occasion of a friend of his which disswaded him from louing	134
Of his Ladies goinge over earlye to bed, so depriving him to soone of her sight	135
Of the thoughtes he nourished by night when he was retired to bed	136

The seconde parte. The first 7 to oure Q: and the K. of Scots

To the Q: after his returne oute of Italye	137
To the Queene touching the cruell effects of her perfections	138
To the Q: vpon occasion of a booke he wrote in an answer to certayne obiections against her proceeding in the Low countrys	139

CONTENTS

To the K. of Scots whome as yet he had not seene	140
To the K. of Scots touching the subject of his poems dedicated wholie to heauenly matters	141
To the K : of Scots vpon occasion of a sonet the K : wrote in complaint of a contrarie winde which hindred the arriuall of the Queene oute of Denmark	142
To the K : of Scots vpon the occasion of his longe stay in Denmarke by reason of the coldnesse of the winter and freezing of the sea	143
The second 7. To particular Ladies whome he most honoured
To the princes of Orange	144
To the Countesse of Shrewsburye	145
To the Countesses of Cumberland and Warwicke sisters	146
To my Ladye Arbella	148
To the Ladye Arbella	149
To my Ladie Rich	150
To the Ladie Rich	151
The thyrd 7 to seuerall persons vpon sundrye occasions
To the princesse of Orange vpon occasion of the murther of her father and husband	152
To the Countesse of Shrewsburye vpon occasion of his deare Mistrisse whoe liu'd vnder her gouer[n]ment	153
To the Countesse of Pembroke	154
To the Countesse of Essex vpon occasion of the death of her first husband Sir Philip Sydney	155
To the Ladie Clinton	156
A calculation of the natiuitye of the Ladie Riches daughter borne vpon friday in the yeare 1588, comonly call'd the yeare of wonder	157
To Mr. Hilliard vpon occasion of a picture he made of my Ladie Rich	158

CONTENTS

The thyrd parte. The first 7 of severall complaynts of misfortune in loue onlye

Sonet 1	159
Sonet 2	160
Sonet 3	161
Complaint of his Ladies melancholynes	162
Complaynt of his Ladies sicknesse	163
Sonet 6	164
Sonet 7	165
To the Marquesse of Piscats soule endued in her life tyme with infinite perfections as her diuine poems doe testefie	166
To Sir Philip Sydneys soule	167
To Sir Philip Sidneys soule	168
To Sir Philip Sydneys soule	169
Of the death of my Ladie Riches daughter shewing the reason of her vntimelye death hindred her effecting those things which by the former calculation of her natiuitye he foretold	170

The last 7 of the end and death of his loue

Sonet 1	171
Sonet 2	172
Sonet 3	173
Sonet 4	174
Sonet 5	175
Sonet 6	177
Conclusion of the whole	178
To the diuine protection of the Ladie Arbella the author commendeth both his Graces honoure and his Muses aeternitye	179

Two sonnets from the Marsh manuscript

To his mistris curteously intertayning him after hard and disgratious words	180
To the same Ladyes in imitation of Petrarch, rimege only with two wordes in eight significations	181

CONTENTS

Sonnet before 'Edm : Bolton his Elements of Armories'
H.C. To the Gentleman Reader	182
Spirituell Sonnettes To the honour of God and hys Sayntes
To God the Father	183
To God the Sonne	183
To God the Holy-ghost	184
To the blessed Sacrament	184
To our blessed Lady	185
To St Mychaell the Archangel	186
To St Iohn Baptist	186
To St Peter and St Paul	187
To St Mary Magdalen	187
To St Katharyne	188
To St Margaret	188
To our blessed Lady	189
To our blessed Lady	190
To our blessed Lady	190
To St Mary Magdalen	191
To St Mary Magdalen	191
To St Mary Magdalen	192
Appendix : sonnets printed in 1594 Diana only
Decad III	193
The fourth Decad	194
The fifth Decad	197
The sixth Decad	203
The seauenth Decad	209
The eyght Decad	215
Commentary on Text	218
A table comparing the ordering of the sonnets in the Harington MS. and the Dianas of 1592 and 1594	255
Index of first lines
I. The text	257
II. Doubtful sonnets	259