

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
Foreword: Human Resources as a Discipline	1
Part One Work and Freedom
1 The Laboring Poor	11
2 What Workers Want	22
3 The Job Belongs to the Worker	32
Part Two Career Plans
4 The Theory of Occupational Choice	47
5 Patterns of Career Development	58
6 Value Orientations in Work	72
Part Three Personality and Performance
7 Sex and Class Behavior	91
8 The New Psychology	100
9 Leaders and Leadership	109
10 The Determinants of Performance	122
Part Four The Waste of Human Resources
11 Unemployed Coal Miners	141
12 The Great Depression: Living on Relief	159
13 Illiteracy in World War II	173
14 Wasted Manpower	189
15 The Management of Men	205
Part Five Human Potential and American Democracy
16 The American Worker	223
17 Better Preparation for the Negro	235
ix

x CONTENTS

18	Work in the Lives of Women	249
19	The New World of Work	257
	Afterword: Research and Policy	273
	Bibliography	279
	Index	281