

Contents

Introduction	1
1 Homeric Origins	5
The Iliad and the Norms of Epic	5
The Revisionary Odyssey	20
Epic Rhetoric: the Reader as Hero	28
2 The Vergilian Revision	36
3 From Ariosto to Spenser	62
Ariosto and the Renaissance of Epic	65
Spenser's Legend of Wholeness	81
4 The Copious Matter of The Faerie Queene	98
Herculean Displacements	98
The Endless Argument of The Faerie Queene	114
5 The Endless Work of Paradise Lost	134
The Epic of Heaven and Hell	136
The Human Epic	144
From the One to the Many: Milton and the Epic Body	157
From the Many to the One:
Discursive and Intuitive Reason	163
Bibliography	180
Index	196