

Contents

VOLUME III

SECTION THREE: MILLIAN ECONOMIC ANALYSIS

Commentary	3
49. Mill on Machinery J.E. LeRossignol	9
50. John Stuart Mill and the Law of Markets B.A. Balassa	11
51. Mill and the Law of Markets: Comment L.C. Hunter	21
52. Mill on Freedom and Voluntary Association A.L. Harris	26
53. Technology and Aggregate Demand in J.S. Mill's Economic System S. Hollander	41
54. The Empirical Content and Longevity of Ricardian Economics N.B. de Marchi	53
55. The Money Supply Theory of J.S. Mill T. Havrilesky	72
56. Population and Mill's Peasant-Proprietor Economy W.C. Bush	77
57. A Short-run Classical Model of Capital and Wages: Mill's Recantation of the Wages Fund R.B. Ekelund	87
58. The New Political Economy of J.S. Mill: the Means to Social Justice R.B. Ekelund and R.D. Tollison	106
59. J.S. Mill's New Political Economy: Another View R.B. Ekelund and R.D. Tollison	124
60. J.S. Mill's Redistribution Policy: New Political Economy or Old? E.G. West	130
61. J.S. Mill, Unions, and the Wages Fund Recantation: A Reinterpretation E.G. West and R.W. Hafer	146

62. J.S. Mill, Unions, and the Wages Fund Recantation: A Reinterpretation — Comment R.B. Ekelund and W.F. Kordsmeier	162
63. J.S. Mill, Unions, and the Wages Fund Recantation: A Reinterpretation — Reply E.G. West and R.W. Hafer	172
64. Mill on Proprietorship, Productivity, and Population: A Theoretical Reappraisal M.E. Bradley	178
65. Mill's Recantation Once Again: Reply to Professor Negishi R.B. Ekelund	203