

Contents

Abbreviations	xii
Introduction	xiii
Acknowledgements	xxv
Chronology	xxix
PART I. ADOLESCENT WRITINGS
1 Greek Exercises [1888–89]	3
Headnote to Essay Notebook (2–8)	22
2 How Far Does a Country's Prosperity Depend on Natural Resources [1889]	24
3 Evolution as Affecting Modern Political Science [1889]	25
4 State-Socialism [1889]	27
5 The Advantages and Disadvantages of Party Government, and the Conditions Necessary for Its Success [1889]	30
6 "The Language of a Nation Is a Monument to Which Every Forcible Individual in the Course of Ages Has Contributed a Stone." [1889]	33
7 Contentment; Its Good and Bad Points [1889]	35
8 Destruction Must Precede Construction [1889]	36
PART II. LATER PERSONAL WRITINGS
9 "A Locked Diary" [1890–94]	41
10 Die Ehe [1893]	68
11 Self-Appreciation [1897]	72
PART III. APOSTOLIC ESSAYS
General Headnote	76
12 Can We Be Statesmen? [1893]	78
13 Lövborg or Hedda [1894]	83
14 Cleopatra or Maggie Tulliver [1894]	90

15	Is Ethics a Branch of Empirical Psychology? [1897]	99
16	Seems, Madam? Nay, It Is [1897]	105
17	Was the World Good before the Sixth Day? [1899]	112

PART IV. GRADUATE ESSAYS IN EPISTEMOLOGY AND THE HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY

	General Headnote to Parts IV and v	118
18	Paper on Epistemology I [1893]	120
19	Paper on Epistemology II [1893]	124
20	Paper on Bacon [1893]	131
21	Paper on History of Philosophy [1894]	140
22	Paper on Epistemology III [1894]	146
23	Paper on Descartes [1894]	151
24	A Critical Comparison of the Methods of Bacon, Hobbes and DesCartes [1894]	155
25	Paper on Bacon [1894]	162
26	Paper on DesCartes I [1894]	169
27	Paper on Descartes II [1894]	178
28	Paper on Hobbes [1894]	185
29	On the Distinction between the Psychological and Metaphysical Points of View [c. 1894]	195

PART V. GRADUATE ESSAYS IN ETHICS

30	On Pleasure [1893]	201
31	On the Foundations of Ethics [1893]	206
32	The Relation of What Ought to Be to What Is, Has Been or Will Be [1893]	212
33	The Relation of Rule and End [1893]	215
34	On the Definition of Virtue [1893]	218
35	The Ethical Bearings of Psychogony [1894]	222
36	Ethical Axioms [1894]	226
37	The Free-Will Problem from an Idealist Standpoint [1895]	229
38	Note on Ethical Theory [c. 1896]	240
39	Are All Desires Equally Moral? [c. 1896]	242

PART VI. FELLOWSHIP AND FIRST PROFESSIONAL PAPERS

	General Headnote	246
40	Review of Heymans, Die Gesetze und Elemente des wissen- schaftlichen Denkens [1895]	249

41	Observations on Space and Geometry [1895]	256
	a Introduction	258
	b Alternative or Supplementary Introduction	260
	c Note. On the Meaning of Apriority as Applied to Space	260
	d Erhardt, Metaphysik , Kap. v, Pp. 226–258	263
42	The Logic of Geometry [1896]	266
43	Review of Lechalas, Étude sur l'espace et le temps [1896]	287
44	The À Priori in Geometry [1896]	289

PART VII. POLITICAL ECONOMY

	General Headnote	306
45	Note on Economic Theory [c. 1895]	308
46	German Social Democracy, as a Lesson in Political Tactics [1896]	310
47	The Uses of Luxury [1896]	319
48	Mechanical Morals and the Moral of Machinery [1896]	324
49	Review of Schmöle, Die Sozialdemokratischen Gewerkschaften in Deutschland seit dem Erlasse des Sozialisten-Gesetzes [1897]	329

APPENDICES

I	Outlines and Reports of Lectures	335
II	What Shall I Read?	345
	Author Index	366

	ANNOTATION	373
--	------------	-----

TEXTUAL NOTES

	Textual Principles and Methods	445
	Guide to the Textual Notes	455

	Bibliographical Index	501
--	-----------------------	-----

	General Index	529
--	---------------	-----