

Contents

INTRODUCTION

1. The Issues and the Sources, xi
2. Big Business in the Weimar Context, xv

I BIG BUSINESS DURING THE DECADE OF WEIMAR DEMOCRACY

1. German Capitalism Survives a Revolution, 3
2. Money Versus Votes, 18
3. Assets, 31
4. Liabilities, 37

II THE EARLY PARTY, BUSINESSMEN, AND NAZI ECONOMICS

1. Patrons of the Fledgling Movement, 47
2. The Cacophony of Nazi Economic Policies, 60
3. Hitler's Economics, 71
4. An Abortive Courtship of Ruhr Industry—Nazism in Disrepute, 83

III PARLIAMENTARY DEMOCRACY ENDS AND NAZISM BREAKS THROUGH

1. The Great Coalition Gives Way to Presidential Rule, 100
2. The Wherewithal of the Nazi Breakthrough, 111
3. A "Long Guessing Game" Begins, 124
4. Capitalist Fellow Travelers and Subsidized Nazis, 142

IV CAPITALISTS, NAZIS, AND THE POLITICS OF DEEPENING DEPRESSION

1. Disillusionment with Brüning—The “Harzburg Front”—
Capitalists in Fear of the Ruler, 158
2. Ruhr Coal: Canards and Calculations, 171
3. The Proliferating Forks of Nazism’s Tongue, 181
4. Nazis and Lesser Businessmen, 191

V POLITICS AND ECONOMICS
IN THE POWER VACUUM

1. Hitler’s Industry Club Speech and Its Aftermath, 204
2. Big Business Approaches the Political Maelstrom in Disarray, 219
3. Attempts at Dialogue with the Nazi Hydra, 233
4. Insurance Premiums and Protection Money for Potential Rulers, 253

VI BIG BUSINESS AND THE TRIUMPH
OF NAZISM

1. Nazis as Champions of Parliament and the Workers—
The Capitalists Find Their Chancellor, 272
2. Political Money in the Fall Election Campaign—
Maneuvers in the Twilight of Weimar, 291
3. Capitalists Adjust to a “Red General” in the Chancellery, 304
4. Big Business Experiences the Birth of the Third Reich, 313

CONCLUSIONS

1. Capitalists, Nazis, and Guilt, 340
2. Myths, Preconceptions, and the Misuse of History, 349

ABBREVIATIONS USED IN NOTES, 360

NOTES, 362

BIBLIOGRAPHY, 472

INDEX, 495