

Contents

Foreword by Richard Oram	vii
Foreword by Richard Carstensen	ix
Geography	xi
Acknowledgements	xiv
1. The Most Hated Tree?	1
2. 'The Tree From Sitka'	14
3. Origin, Migration and Survival on the Edge	28
4. At Home in North American Rainforests	40
5. Sitka Spruce in the Lives of First Nations	58
6. Prehistoric Lives and Woodlands in Britain and Ireland	75
7. Woodland History and Britain's Need for Sitka Spruce	93
8. Realisation: New Trees for New Woodlands	109
9. Ships, Surveyors, Scurvy and Spruces	122
10. Journeys and Experiments for Seeds and People	136
11. From Rare Ornamental to Upland Carpet	159
12. Peat: The Final Frontier	188
13. Perceptions	216
14. Contribution to Modern Societies	241
15. Plantation Ecology: Plants and Animals Re-assemble	267
16. Sustainability in North America	288
17. New Temperate Rainforests: Futures in Ireland and Britain	307
Bibliography	331
Glossary	349
Latin Names	355
Index	361