

Contents

Preface	page xi
1. Introduction	1
Religion as economics	7
Politics as religion	12
Economics as politics	14
Part I. Economics
2. Weber's last theory of capitalism	19
The components of rationalized capitalism	21
The causal chain	26
Weber's general theory of history	34
An assessment: Weber's confrontation with Marxism	37
Conclusion	44
3. The Weberian revolution of the High Middle Ages	45
The Weberian model	46
The bureaucratic Church	49
Monasteries as economic entrepreneurs	52
Was medieval Europe capitalist?	54
Rival developments: religious capitalism
in Buddhist China	58
The downfall of religious capitalism in Europe	73
Conclusion	76
4. A theory of technology	77
What is an invention?	80
The case of military technology	85
The long-term perspective	95
Tribal societies	97
Command economies	102
Capitalist innovation	111
Conclusion	115

Contents

5.	Weber and Schumpeter: toward a general sociology of capitalism	117
	Weber and Schumpeter	119
	Where do profits come from?	122
	Monopolization as a key economic process	125
	The organizational politics of money	134
	Conclusion: the nature of capitalist development	139

Part II. Politics

6.	Imperialism and legitimacy: Weber's theory of politics	145
	Economic interests, imperialist and nonimperialist	148
	Nationalism	151
	Legitimacy	155
	Legitimacy and imperialism	158
	Geopolitics, external and internal	161
7.	Modern technology and geopolitics	167
	The size of contemporary and traditional states	170
	The vulnerability of sea power	173
	Air power and its geopolitical effects	178
	Conclusion	184
8.	The future decline of the Russian Empire	186
	Size and resource advantage	187
	Positional advantage	187
	Fragmentation of interior states	188
	Showdown wars and turning points	189
	Overextension and disintegration	190
	Russian expansion and resource advantage	191
	Russian loss of marchland advantage	195
	Russia as an interior state	196
	The Cold War as a turning point	197
	Russian overextension	197
	Interaction of geopolitical disadvantages	201
	Alternative perspectives	204
	Conclusion	208

Part III. Culture

9.	Heresy, religious and secular	213
	The universal church and the imperial state	215
	Heresy and organizational power struggles	221

Contents
	Geopolitical events and internal church conflicts 226
	The asymmetry of mystical and moralistic religions 230
	Puritans versus compromisers within moralistic religions 240
	Equivalents in secular politics 241
10.	Alienation as ritual and ideology 247
	The Hegelian background 247
	Alienation in Marx's system 250
	The romanticization of past and present 251
	Cultural snobbery or revolution in ritual production? 253
	Surplus value versus the sociology of markets 255
	A micro-macro perspective 259
	Alienation as modern secular politics 261
 Part IV. Sex
11.	Weber's theory of the family 267
	Family obstacles to capitalism 267
	The geopolitics of the family 271
	The family as sex and property 276
	Political and economic determinants of family organization 277
	The kin group and its transformations 285
	The rise and fall of the household 287
	Appendix: The question of Iroquois matriarchy 294
12.	Courtly politics and the status of women 297
	The Nayar puzzle 299
	Marriage politics in Heian Japan 306
	Conclusions: courtly politics and the status of women in world history 312
	Appendix: Moral politics in ancient Rome 315
	 References 323
	Index 337