

Contents

	Notes on contributors	ix
	Preface	xi
1	Introduction: theory of liberty, legitimacy, and power: new directions in the intellectual and scientific legacy of Max Weber Vatro Murvar	1
 Part I Theoretical Perspectives
2	Power and stratification: Max Weber and beyond Thomas Burger	11
3	Patrimonialism, modern and traditionalist: a paradigm for interdisciplinary research on rulership and legitimacy Vatro Murvar	40
4	Law and society in Max Weber's sociology Edith E. Graber	86
5	Max Weber and the causality of freedom William W. Mayrl	108
6	Sociological demystification of the arts and music: Max Weber and beyond K. Peter Etzkorn	125
		vii

CONTENTS

Part II Historical-comparative case studies

7	Confucianism, Maoism, and Max Weber David C. Yu	141
8	Weber and sultanism in the light of historical data Susan K. Croutwater	168
9	Patrimonialism in China and the Islamic world Vatro Murvar	185
10	Max Weber's human ecology of historical societies Patrick C. West	216
	Appendix	235
	Bibliography	244
	Index	257