

CONTENTS

Abbreviations	9
Introduction	11
PART ONE - WITTGENSTEIN	17
Introduction	17
Chapter I - "Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus"	22
§ 1 - The picture -theory	22
§ 2 - Language and world	25
§ 3 - Language and logic	28
§ 4 - Mysticism	31
§ 5 - Mysticism and theology	34
§ 6 - Wittgenstein's silence and Thomas' doctrine of analogy	35
Chapter II - "Philosophical Investigations"	40
§ 1 - Purpose	40
§ 2 - Language-games	42
§ 3 - Meaning as use	47
§ 4 - Form of life	51
§ 5 - The Tractatus and the Investigations	54
Chapter III - Towards an interpretation of Wittgenstein	57
§ 1 - Point of view	57
§ 2 - Phillips' application of Wittgenstein	59
1. "The concept of prayer"	60
2. "Death and immortality"	65
3. "Faith and philosophical inquiry"	70
§ 3 - The mystery of language in Heidegger and Wittgenstein	71
1. The essence of language	72
2. The unboundedness of language	77
3. Relativism ?	80
4. Mysticism in the Tractatus and the Investigations	82
PART TWO - WITTGENSTEIN AND THEOLOGY	85
Chapter I - Philosophy and theology	85

§	1 - Preliminary questions and observations	85
§	2 - The use of philosophy in theology	90
§	3 - Wittgenstein and theology	92
	1. The use of Wittgensteinian notions	92
	2. Theological questions - Wittgensteinian answers ?	94
	3. A Wittgensteinian theology ?	98
Chapter II - Nature and Meaning - Natural theology		104
§	1 - The problem	104
§	2 - Natural knowledge of God - Vatican I	105
	1. the definition	105
	2. the medium : "nature" as common ground	108
	3. "natural theology"	111
§	3 - Wittgenstein and natural knowledge of God	113
	1. the openness of his system	113
	a) the early works	113
	b) the Investigations	115
	2. "meaning" as common ground	116
Chapter III - Language and silence - Thomas and Wittgenstein on faith and charity		120
§	1 - Introduction	120
§	2 - The language of faith	120
	1. The act of faith	121
	2. The object of faith	124
	3. The circle of faith	126
	4. The return home	128
§	3 - The meaning of silence	130
	1. "Object" and "end"	130
	2. Charity	131
	3. "Instinctus interior"	134
	4. Beatitude	136
	5. Faith and silence	138
Chapter IV - In search for the Meaning of meaning		142
§	1 - The problem	142
§	2 - Ontology in Thomas	144
	1. "Ens et verum convertuntur"	144
	2. "Ens et unum convertuntur"	147
§	3 - Wittgenstein and ontology	149
	1. Meaning as praxis	149
	2. Meaning as revelation of being	155

§	4 - Wittgenstein and theological ontology	160
	1. Remarks on christology	160
	a) Some remarks on Thomas' account	160
	b) A Wittgensteinian interpretation	162
	c) Ontological implications	165
	2. Remarks on the Eucharist	166
	a) Some remarks on Thomas' account	166
	b) A Wittgensteinian interpretation	168
	c) Ontological implications	174
§	5 - Conclusion - A theological translation of poetry	176
	Chapter V - Conclusion	179
	Notes	189
	Bibliography	226