

CONTENTS

| | |
|--|-----|
| ACKNOWLEDGMENTS. | vii |
| INTRODUCTION | 1 |
| “Truer Portraits” Feminist Spectators in Turn-of-the-Century Latin America | |
| CHAPTER 1. | 15 |
| “Dear Girls, Shout Along with Me” Schools, Suffrage, and Political Agency | |
| CHAPTER 2. | 32 |
| “Sweeping Away Injustice” Redefining Women’s Honor in the Context of Social Revolution, 1912–1919 | |
| CHAPTER 3. | 52 |
| “ She Made All the Women Cry ” Camila Quiroga and Women Playgoers in Argentina, 1915–1918 | |
| CHAPTER 4. | 69 |
| “ Picture Yourself Married, Unhappily Married ” Melodrama and Social Change in Argentina, 1919–1927 | |
| CHAPTER 5. | 94 |
| “ The Ideal Mexican Mother ” Supermadres and Women’s Citizenship in Postrevolutionary Mexico, 1923–1950 | |
| CHAPTER 6. | 111 |
| “ Daddy, I’m Getting a Divorce ” Gender, Comedy, and Liberated Women in Argentina, 1938 and 1945 | |

| | |
|--|-----|
| CHAPTER 7.. | 137 |
| “We Must Invent Ourselves” | |
| Transformative Mythmakers and the Lasting Legacy of Early Twentieth-Century Women Playwrights | |
| APPENDIX A. | 167 |
| Excerpt from Almafuerte by Salvadora Medina Onrubia (1914) | |
| APPENDIX B. | 185 |
| Excerpt from Cosas de la vida: Comedia en tres actos (The facts of life: Comedy in three acts) by María Luisa Ocampo (1923) | |
| APPENDIX C. | 192 |
| Yo me divorcio, Papá: Pieza en un acto (Daddy, I’m getting a divorce: A one-act play) by Malena Sándor (1937) | |
| APPENDIX D. | 203 |
| El mundo perdido (The lost world) by Magdalena Mondragón (1952) | |
| NOTES | 225 |
| BIBLIOGRAPHY | 253 |
| INDEX | 275 |