

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
A Note on Transcription	ix
Introduction	1
Early Modern Commercial Theatre	2
Theatre and Economics	6
Oeconomy and Commerce	8
The Revaluation of Interest	12
‘Wisdom of Business’, or the Transformation of Prudence	16
Generic Cross-Pollination	20
The Book	22
1. Household Management and Commerce in Early Modern England	24
Introduction	24
The Household in Classical and Early Modern Writings	27
Xenophon’s Oeconomicus	31
The Aristotelian Oikos	34
The Early Modern Oikos	36
Tropical Exchanges and the Family as ‘First Society’	37
The Power Axis of Household Government: Marriage	42
Household Guardian or ‘Perpetuall Enemie’	44
Early Modern Commerce	47
Mercantile Writings	53
Unnatural Acquisition: Aristotle and Trade	57
Justice in Exchange	59
Trade as Godly Calling and the Limits of Sufficiency	61
Legitimate Profit	66
Mercantilist and Bullionist Writers	69
Culture of Credit	73
Conclusion	77
2. Oeconomy in A Chaste Maid in Cheapside and Macbeth	79
Introduction	79
A Chaste Maid in Cheapside : The Oikos in a Marketplace of Desires	83
Liminal Domestic Spaces	85
Sexuality as Commodity	89
The Logic of the Marketplace	96
Household Politics and Private Interests in Macbeth	98
The Household as Dramatic Subject	101

Household Space	103
The Female Body and Household Space	109
From Ethics to Efficiency in the Service of Private Interest	113
Private Interests and the Motivating Force of Passion	116
The Politics of Exchange	119
Conclusion	123
3. Mercantile Agency and Service in Othello and The Alchemist	128
Introduction	128
The Household as 'Venture Tripartite': 'Wisdom of Business' in The Alchemist	132
The Prudent Captain	136
Persuasion through Amplification	143
The Alchemical Trope	147
'Shows of Service' and Mercantile Agency in Othello	151
Transnational Travel and Social Mobility	155
'Wisdom of Business': Skills and Strategies	159
Debasement: Credit and Value	162
Jealousy and Envy as Affective Coordinates of a Mobile Society	169
Conclusion	173
4. Asynchronous Exchanges in Volpone and Timon of Athens	176
Introduction	176
Asynchronous Exchange and Accumulation in Volpone	179
The Temporality of the Gift	181
Strategic Delay: The Temporality and Intentionality of the Promise	183
Delay as Pleasure Principle	188
Mastery and Self-Aggrandizement	191
Delay and Dilation: Principles of Credit and Plot	196
Timon of Athens : Competing Paradigms of Exchange	201
The Gift as Investment	202
The Moral Economy of the Gift	206
Futurity and the Failure of the Promise	212
Friendship and Fortune	215
Exploring the Interval: Delay and Dilation as Plot Devices	219
Conclusion	222
Conclusion	226
Oeconomy and Commerce	228
The Discontents of Social Mobility	232
The 'Architecture of Fortune' and the Future	234
Works Cited	238
Index	261