

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
A Note on the 2019 Passing of Professor Toni Morrison	xi
Editors' Introductions: Teaching Morrison's God Help the Child Natalie King-Pedroso	1
Navigating Lies to Experience What "Some Call Romantic Love" Rhone Fraser	11
PART I: PROTAGONIST AS CHILD	27
1 Raising the Inner Child: Lessons of Emotional Development in Toni Morrison's God Help the Child Jasmin Wilson	29
2 "The House That Race Built": Declarations of Toni Morrison's Prophetic Voice in God Help the Child and The Bluest Eye Khalilah Watson	45
3 Making Black Lives and Families Matter: Honoring Family and Fatherhood in God Help the Child Sukanya Senapati	63
4 Harvesting Sight and Mind: The Crippling of Community in Toni Morrison's God Help the Child Jericho Williams	81

PART II: PROTAGONIST AS PROFESSIONAL	99
5 “Sistah from Another Mista”: Examining the Familial Bond between Bride and Brooklyn in Toni Morrison’s God Help the Child Na’Imah Ford	101
6 The Loss and Regaining of Self: Identity Negotiation in Toni Morrison’s God Help the Child Xenia Liashuk	119
7 “Memory Is the Worst Thing about Healing”: Acknowledging Multigenerational Trauma and the Middle Passage Voyage of the Sable Venus in Toni Morrison’s God Help the Child Yolanda Franklin	139
PART III: PROTAGONIST AS PARTNER	159
8 Socialized to Silence: A Close Reading of Booker Starbern and Lula Ann Bridewell in God Help the Child According to Kobi Kambon’s Model of African Self-Consciousness Development Rhone Fraser	161
9 “You Will Love Them, No Matter How Ugly Their Truth Is”: Truth, Onomastics, and Black Women’s Humanity in Toni Morrison’s God Help the Child and Mara Brock Akil’s Being Mary Jane Natalie King-Pedroso	181
Appendix A: Discussion Questions: Conflicts in Comradeship	201
Index	207
About the Editors	217
About the Contributors	219