

Contents

List of Tables	ix
List of Figures	xii
Glossary of Terms and Abbreviations	xiii
Editors' Foreword	xvii
Preface	xix
1. Introduction	1
An Approach to the Study of Domestic Organization	3
The Application of the Approach – Research Strategy	13
The Characteristics of the Two Domestic Organizations	17
2. The Goals and Norms of Steward Action	23
Contrasting Goals and Norms of the Two Domestic Organizations	24
Differences in Role Definition Between Individual Stewards	32
The Steward Community and the Reaffirmation of Values	40
3. Stewards, Issues, and Sanctions	54
Issue Initiatives and their Shaping	55
Facilitating Leadership	64
4. The Committees of the Domestic Organizations	77
Steward Committees	77
Mass Meetings of the Membership	92

5. Stewards and Their Members	99
Stewards and the Member Network	100
Member Expectations of Stewards	112
Member Resort to the Union and Attitudes Towards the Union	115
Imagery and the Union	122
6. The Union and the Act of Work	131
Contrasts Between Staff and Shop-Floor	131
Varieties of Work Experience	137
Work Experience and Steward Leadership	148
7. Management and the Bargaining Relationship	154
Management Politics and Goal Achievement	155
Management Politics and Industrial Relations	159
Manager-Steward Contacts and Bargaining Relation- ships	165
8. The Larger Union and the Domestic Organization	178
Stewards and the Larger Union	179
Domestic Organization and the Larger Union	185
Full-time Official Involvement Through Procedure	191
Accommodation Between Full-time Officials and the Conveners	201
9. Fluctuating Patterns of Organization	212
Maturity, Stability, and Change	213
Steward Stability and Change	221
10. The Fruits of Leadership and Populism	231
Leadership and Wage Levels	232
Leadership and Overtime	237
Leadership, Restrictive Practices, and the Frontier of Control	240
Leadership, Strikes, and Use of Procedure	244
11. Conclusions and Implications	252
Review of Findings	252
Company Operation and Workplace Bargaining	260
Theories of Trade Union Government	267

Appendices

A. Research Methods	273
Observation	273
Other Methods	276
B. A Brief History of the Two Domestic Organizations	281
The Shop-Floor Organization	281
The Clerical Staff Organization	289
Bibliography	294
Index	305