

INHALT

|   | Seite |
|---|--------------|
| VORWORT   | 5            |
| 1. Edward Heath: The Anthony Sampson Nobody Knows                 | 8            |
| COMMUNICATION   | 11           |
| 2. Humphrey Lyttelton: English as She Is Whelspoke                | 11           |
| 3. R.G.G. Price: Born 1841, and Going Strong Right from the Start | 13           |
| 4. Robert V. Engle: TV; What Hath Man Wrought ?                   | 15           |
| CULTURE   | 17           |
| 5. William Davis: Ces Fous Anglais                                | 17           |
| 6. John Taylor: Clothes   | 19           |
| 7. The English Dream  | 21           |
| 8. Maureen Orth: Pop; Messiah Coming ?                            | 23           |
| 9. La Plume de M. Greene  | 25           |
| 10. Joan Bakewell: Tony Garnett's Morality Plays                  | 28           |
| ECONOMICS   | 31           |
| 11. James Robertson: Can We Have a Non-Profit Society ?           | 31           |
| 12. Mary Stott: Consuming Virtue                                  | 34           |
| 13. Victor Feather: This Is Still an Unfair Society               | 36           |
| 14. The Bumpy Auto Business                                       | 39           |
| 15. Joseph Wechsberg: Lloyd's of London                           | 41           |
| 16. David Evans: Funding the Englishman's Castle                  | 43           |
| EDUCATION   | 46           |
| 17. John Rae: On Teaching Independence                            | 46           |
| 18. Enoch Powell: A Western European Education                    | 48           |
| 19. Neal Ascherson: Public Schools and the New Class              | 50           |
| 20. Peter Wilby: The Grant Gap                                    | 52           |
| 21. C.B. Cox: Who Needs Examinations ?                            | 54           |
| 22. Merry Archard: Growing Minds                                  | 56           |
| 23. Libby Purves: Golden Oldies                                   | 58           |
| ENVIRONMENT   | 61           |
| 24. John Wells: Adapt Yourself to Environmental Pong              | 61           |

|   | Seite |
|---|--------------|
| 25. Peter Rolfe: The Village Pond and Its Spiralof Decay                    | 63           |
| 26. Alan Brien: Living on Charity   | 65           |
| 27. Matt Clark: Troubled Children; The Quest for Help                           | 67           |
| LAW   | 70           |
| 28. Fenton Bresler: Three Hundred Years of BritishCustoms                   | 70           |
| 29. The Dark Side of Scotland Yard  | 72           |
| 30. Jessica Mitford: Cons and Rebels  | 73           |
| 31. Shoplifting   | 75           |
| 32. Peta Fordham: Justice and the Train Robbers                                 | 77           |
| POLITICS  | 79           |
| 33. Nicholas Johns: Young Europe  | 79           |
| 34. And Now, the '30s Look in Politics  | 81           |
| 35. Alan Brien: Mutiny over the Bounty  | 83           |
| 36. T.F. Lindsay & Michael Harrington: A Party forAll Classes               | 85           |
| 37. Edmund Ions: The End of the Two-Party System ?                              | 87           |
| 38. David Watt: The Language of Abuse   | 90           |
| 39. The Race Hunt   | 91           |
| 40. Like Ghosts Crying Out  | 94           |
| 41. Lessons of the Health Service Row   | 96           |
| 42. Lunchtime O'Booze: "Sod the Lot of You !" PlayboyChief Enters NHS Storm | 99           |
| 43. Peter Preston: Who Are the Civil Servants ?                                 | 100          |
| 44. James Morris: A View of the Royal Navy                                      | 102          |
| RECREATION  | 105          |
| 45. You Should Be Prepared to Die   | 105          |
| 46. Robin Marljar: Where Have All the Cavaliers Gone ?                          | 107          |
| 47. Ian Bain: Britain's Queen Fisher  | 110          |
| 48. Michael Hyde: Allotment Wines   | 111          |
| 49. John Oaksey: Love on All Fours  | 113          |
| 50. Laurence Bergreen: The Ambiguous Python                                     | 116          |
| 51. Jilly Cooper: You Can Do It in an MG  | 118          |
| 52. Mrs. Phillips the Princess  | 121          |

|   | Seite |
|---|--------------|
| RELIGION  | 124          |
| 53. Laurence Dobie: Dying without God   | 124          |
| 54. Verily, It Is Better to Faint Outside the Playboy Club Than in the Office | 127          |
| 55. Mervyn Stockwood: Surely There Is a Right Sort of Love                    | 128          |
| 56. An Evangelical Ascends  | 131          |
| SCIENCE   | 134          |
| 57. Peter Gwynne: Energy Quest  | 134          |
| 58. Don Mackay: Running Out of Food ?   | 136          |
| 59. Amateur A-Bomb ?  | 138          |
| 60. The Race for the Double Helix; Providence and Personalities               | 141          |
| 61. Oil and Water Do Mix  | 143          |
| 62. Malcolm Carruthers: Sickness at the Wheel                                 | 144          |
| 63. Wendy Cooper: Woman Free Your Body and Become Truly Liberated             | 146          |