

Contents

PREFACE

xi

INTRODUCTION

A Case for "Public Policy"

Approaches to China's Finance and Trade

1

PART ONE

General Economic Line

11

1. People's Daily Correspondent Prescribes Two Opposed Lines for Building the Economy 20
2. Red Flag Author Argues Politics Is a Concentrated Manifestation of Economics 26
3. Revolutionary Mass Criticism Groups Denounce Sun Yeh-fang's "One Black Program" and "Five Soft Daggers" 31
4. Revolutionary Mass Criticism Groups Tie Sun Yeh-fang to Liu Shao-ch'i 36
5. Provincial Revolutionary Committee Writing Group Asserts Sun Yeh-fang's "System of Political Economy" Is an Ideological Foundation for Liu Shao-ch'i's Counterrevolutionary Line 38
6. Provincial Revolutionary Committee Writing Group Identifies What Sun Yeh-fang Learned from Efsei Liberman 39
7. Provincial Revolutionary Committee Writing Group Asserts Sun Yeh-fang's Program Would Serve the Interests of the "Eight Immortals" 41
8. State Planning Commission Writing Group Emphasizes the Importance of Thrift 42
9. Provincial Revolutionary Committee Writing Group Warns Putting Politics in Command Is Not Enough 46
10. People's Daily Correspondent Refutes the Argument "Statistics Is Useless" 46

11. Provincial Revolutionary Committee Writing Team Argues Land, Labor and Capital Are Insufficient to Explain Economic Development 53
12. State Planning Commission Charts the Future of the Chinese Economy in the Post-Mao Era 54

PART TWO
Planning and Markets

71

13. Ministry of Commerce Writing Group Refutes Four Main Issues in the Two-Line Struggle in Commerce 82
14. Ministry of Commerce Writing Group Contrasts Correct Line for Leading Commerce with Liu Shao-ch'i's Line 82
15. Ministry of Commerce Writing Group Refutes Liu Shao-ch'i's Fallacy "Circulation Determines Production" 85
16. Ministry of Commerce Writing Group Criticizes Liu Shao-ch'i for Advocating Free Markets 88
17. Ministry of Commerce Writing Group Describes How Liu Shao-ch'i Promoted Capitalism in Rural Commerce 89
18. Provincial Revolutionary Committee Writing Team Analyzes the Danger of Spontaneous Capitalism When Diversifying Rural Economies 92
19. Economist Asserts China's Individual Peasant Economy Is Basically a Petty Commodity Economy 94
20. Economist Analyzes Classes in a Rural Petty Commodity Economy 95
21. Economist Analyzes Growth of Speculation and Usury after Land Reform 96
22. Ministry of Commerce Writing Group Charges Liu Shao-ch'i Advocated "Squeezing" the Peasant Sector 100
23. Economist Argues That Capitalist Planning Is Unscientific, Unreliable, and Wasteful 101
24. Economist Lists Necessary Socialist Planning Targets 102
25. Economist Analyzes Socialist Planning as Continuous Preparations to Handle Disequilibria 103
26. Economist Outlines Four Main Equilibria Socialist Planning Should Try to Achieve 104
27. Provincial Revolutionary Committee Writing Group Criticizes Sun Yeh-fang's View That "Plans Should Be Based on the Law of Value" 108

28. Provincial Revolutionary Committee Writing Group Puts the "Law of Value" in Perspective	108
29. Provincial Revolutionary Committee Writing Group Criticizes Overemphasis on Profits	111
30. Red Flag Author Exposes Class Enemies' Tactics on the Finance-Trade Front	111
31. People's Daily Correspondent Urges Commercial Departments to Promote Development of a Diversified Rural Economy	118
32. New China News Agency Correspondent Reports on New-style Rural Periodic Market Where Private Transactions Are Minimized	121
33. Representatives of Ten Big Department Stores in Nine Cities Denounce Teng Hsiao-p'ing and Demand "Bourgeois Right" Be Restricted	129
34. All-China Supply and Marketing Co-op Mass Criticism Group Exposes Crimes of the "Gang of Four" in Sabotaging Agricultural Subsidiary Production in Rural Markets	131

PART THREE

Money, Banking, and Investment

137

35. Economist Gives Comprehensive Overview of Socialist Public Finance	149
36. Pierre-Henri Cassou, "The Chinese Monetary System"	171
37. Red Flag Correspondent Reports the Advanced Experience of a Model Banking Office	186
38. "Red Bank" [Homonym] Lauds the Long-term Stability of the Jen-min pi	198
39. "Red Bank" Draws Contrast between the Currencies of China and the Soviet Union's Ruble	200
40. "Red Bank" Draws Further Contrasts between the Jen-min pi and Currency under the KMT and under the Line of Liu Shao-ch'i	201
41. Red Flag Author Explains Why the Jen-min pi Has Remained Stable	205
42. Economist Observes a Shift since 1949 in the Profile of People Making Personal Savings Deposits	208
43. Economist Reports Increase in Proportion of Fixed Savings Deposits to Total Deposits, 1952-1963	209

44. People's Daily Correspondent Explains Continued Increase in Savings Deposits through 1973	209
45. Economist Explains the Importance of People's Savings to Economic Construction	211
46. Economist Raises the Problem of the Ratio of Accumulation to Consumption in Rural Communes	218
47. Economist Details Three Attributes of the Accumulation/Consumption Ratio	219
48. Economist Notes Relationship between Consumption and Labor Productivity	222
49. Economist Identifies Views of the Accumulation/Consumption Ratio Held by Different Rural Classes	223
50. Economist Refutes View That Accumulation/Consumption Ratio Should Remain Stable	224
51. Mao Tse-tung Legitimizes Interests of State, Collective, and Individual	225
52. Economist Notes How Bumper Harvest Years and Lean Years Should Affect the Accumulation/Consumption Ratio	226
53. Province and Ministry of Light Industry Joint Investigation Group Argues for "Multiple Utilization" to Reduce Waste	227
54. Group of Theorists at a Branch of the People's Bank Discusses Importance of Money in a Socialist Economy	237
55. Theory Group at a District Office of the People's Bank Discusses Money and Exchange in a Socialist Economy	238
56. People's Daily Correspondent Reports on the Supervisory Function of a People's Bank Office	240

SOURCES

247

ABOUT THE EDITOR

250