

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction	1
I. Anthropology and the History of Religions	5
The Study of Man and his Religions	5
Anthropology — Aims and Methods	8
Religion in Anthropological Studies	22
History of Religions — Aims and Methods	24
Relation of History of Religions to Anthropology	37
Evaluation of Eliade	42
II. Eliade's Concept of "Religious Man"	45
Primitive Man in Eliade's Works	45
Myth	49
Time	51
Rite	53
Symbol	54
Principal Themes	57
Religious Man	62
III. "Religious Man" in Contemporary Anthropology	66
Primitive Man in Anthropology	66
Myth	72
Time	76
Ritual	78
Symbol	82
Magic, Witchcraft and Sorcery	87
Ethnomedicine	89
Religious Change	91
New Directions in the Study of Religion	93
Religious Man	96
IV. An Anthropological Critique of Eliade's Views on "Religious Man"	99
The Validity of an Anthropological Evaluation	99
Eliade's Aims, Methods and Sources	102
The Concept of Primitive in Eliade	121

Myth	125
Time	129
Ritual	131
Symbolism	133
Religious Man	136
V. Issues and Contributions	142
The Study of Religion	142
The Definition of Religion	149
Religion and Magic	155
Religion and Culture	159
Religion and Philosophy	164
Religion and Psychology	168
Religion as Paradox	172
Religion and Life-Style	173
Religion and Religious Man	175
Bibliography	178