

Contents

	Page
Preface	v
I Overview	1
II Long-Term Growth Performance	2
Key Features of Economic Policies	2
Implications of Empirical Studies on the Determinants of Growth	3
Developments in Output and Productivity During Phases of Adjustment	7
III Economic Developments and Adjustment, 1970–93	8
Initial Conditions	8
Shocks and Responses	8
Linking Outcomes to Policies	10
Investment and Saving	12
IV Fiscal Policy	14
Fiscal Impulse and the Stance of Fiscal Policy	14
Issues in the Sustainability of Public Debt	15
Key Lessons	17
V Monetary Policy	18
Monetary Conditions	18
Key Lessons	19
VI Labor Markets	20
Institutional Characteristics	20
Trends in Employment and Unemployment	20
Flexibility of Real Wages	21
VII Structural Reforms	24
Financial Sector	24
Trade Reform	24
Public Enterprises	26
VIII Conclusions	28
Appendix Private Investment Behavior in Thailand	30
References	39