

Contents

Introduction ..... 1

1) Empirical Evidence ..... 3

1.1) Methodology ..... 3

1.1.1) Hypothesis, related findings and approach ..... 3

1.1.2) Choice of indicators and cases ..... 4

1.2) Case Studies ..... 5

1.2.1) Traditionalist Synthesis I: Morocco ..... 5

1.2.2) A Secular Republic: Tunisia ..... 8

1.2.3) Traditionalist Synthesis II: Saudi-Arabia ..... 10

1.2.4) A Modernist Synthesis: Iran ..... 13

1.2.5) In sum: Different degrees of secularisation–similar deficiencies ..... 22

2) Contemporary Muslim political discourse:

Between Conflationism and Deconflationism ..... 23

2.1) Genesis ..... 25

2.2) Conflationism and deconflationism–contextualised ..... 29

2.3) Plurality as an object of Muslim political discourse ..... 28

2.3.1) "Tawḥīd/oneness of God" vs. political plurality? ..... 29

2.3.2) "Ijtihād/individual reasoning" and innovation of religious thought ..... 34

2.3.3) "Naṣīḥah/sincere advice" and freedom of expression ..... 42

2.3.4) "Shūrā/consultation" vs. democracy? ..... 44

3) Conclusions ..... 47

References ..... 53

Zusammenfassung