Table of Contents

Preface iii

I. Running Away: An Overview 1

Running Away: Reaction or Revolution 2
James S. Gordon

II. Innovative Mental Health Services 17

If You Loved Me, You'd Take Out the Garbage 18
Wendy Palmer and Bob Patterson

An Urban Alternative Service for Youth 25
I. Roy Jones

Perspectives on Services for Rural Youth 29
Ken Libertoff

Community Networks: A Service Strategy for Urban Runaways and Their Families 36
Jim Bliesner

III. Peer Counseling 45

A Unique Approach to Peer Counseling 46
Diane Weger

Peer Counseling at Sasha Bruce House 50
Darlene Stewart

IV. Long-Term Care 59

Long-Term Care Provided by Runaway Programs 60
Marty Beyer

Group Foster Homes: Alternatives to Institutions 67
James S. Gordon

SAJA Foster Care 79
Lori Kaplan

Long-Term Placement at Huckleberry's 92
Jay Berlin

Youth Employment as a Preventive Mental Health Strategy 103
Mike Herron

Advocacy: Strengthening Individual Power 108
Jayn Allie

V. Prevention 117

Prevention Efforts and Runaway Centers: A National Accounting 118
Loraine Hutchins

Prevention: One Community's Approach 128
Beatrice B. Paul

VI. Training 137

Mental Health-Related Training in Runaway Programs: A National Perspective 138
Marty Beyer

Training: How Voyage House Does It 144
Ronald J. Gutkowski and Herbert F. Lawrence

VII. Relationships to Mental Health Facilities 153

Community Mental Health Centers and Runaway Programs Working Together 154
John C. Wolfe

A Holistic Approach to Youth Services 160
Robert Meltzer

Alternative Youth Services as a Branch of a Mental Health Facility 166
Claudia J. Stuntebeck

VIII. Accreditation and Licensure 173

Licensure and Accreditation of Alternative Services 174
Arnold E. Sherman

Local Issues in Alternative Service Accreditation 183
W. Douglas McCoard

IX. Conclusion 189

The Runaway Center as a Community Mental Health Center 190
James S. Gordon

X. About the Authors 201