

Contents

Part I GENETICS

1. Genetic and Historical Relationships Among Mediterraneans
J. Martínez-Laso, E. Gómez-Casado, P. Varela, M. González-Hevilla, J. Alonso-García, J. Longás, and A. Arnaiz-Villena	3
2. Genetic Affinities Among Human Populations Inhabiting the Sub-Saharan Area, Northwest Africa, and the Iberian Peninsula
C. Flores, M. Hernández, A. M. González, and V. M. Cabrera	33
3. The History of Iberian and Moroccan Populations: Evidence from Genetic Data (DNA Studies and Classical Polymorphisms)
P. Moral, M. Kandil, A. Fernandez-Santander, E. Esteban, and N. Valveny	51
4. The Berbers of North Africa: Genetic Relationships According to HLA and other Polymorphisms
A. Sanchez-Mazas	65

Part II ANTHROPOLOGY

5. Berber Ethnogenesis: The Origin of the First Berber-Speaking Social Formations
J. Onrubia Pintado	81

6. Applications of Evolutive Archeology: Migrations from Africa to Iberia in the Recent Prehistory

J. L. Escacena Carrasco 125

Part III LINGUISTICS

7. Deciphering the Iberian-Tartesian Language

J. Alonso-García, María J. Castro, J. Martínez-Laso, and
A. Arnaiz-Villena 165

8. The Basque Language Is Included in the Dene-Caucasian Language Family

M. Ruhlen 197

9. The Usko-Mediterranean Languages

A. Arnaiz-Villena and J. Alonso-García 205

Index 247