

Contents

Preface xvii

About the Author xx

Information on the Internet xxi

CHAPTER 1 The Challenge of Forensic Psychology 1

What Is Forensic Psychology? 2

The Promise and the Problems of Forensic Psychology 3

The Conflict Between Psychology and the Law 4

Laws and Values 5

The Legal System's Reliance on Intuition Over Empiricism 6

Two Illustrative Court Decisions 7

The History of the Relationship Between Psychology and the Law 12

The Role of Hugo Münsterberg 12

Reaction of the Legal Community 15

A Period of Inactivity 15

Resurgence in the 1970s 16

The Present 16

The Perspectives of Psychology and the Law 17

What Determines Truth? 17

The Nature of Reality 20

The Legal System's Criticisms of Psychology 21

The Future of the Relationship Between Psychology and the Law 22

Summary 23

Key Terms 24

Suggested Readings 24

CHAPTER 2 Roles and Responsibilities of Forensic Psychologists 25

The Multitude of Roles 26

The Temptations of Forensic Psychologists	26
Promising Too Much	27
Substituting Advocacy for Scientific Objectivity	27
Letting Values Overcome Empirically Based Findings	27
Doing a Cursory Job	29
Maintaining Dual Relationships and Competing Roles	29
Specific Roles: The Trial Consultant	30
Duties	30
Clientele	31
Conflicts With the Legal System	31
Ethical Responsibilities	31
Specific Roles: The Expert Witness	32
Duties	32
Clientele	34
Conflicts	34
Ethical Responsibilities	35
The Impact of the Daubert Decision	37
Specific Roles: The Preparation of Amicus Briefs	41
Duties	42
Differences Between Psychologists	44
Effectiveness	45
Ethical Considerations	46
Guidelines for Forensic Psychologists	47
Summary	47
Key Terms	48
Suggested Readings	48
CHAPTER 3
The Police: Selection, Training, and Evaluation	50
Psychology's Role in Police Work	51
Who Are the Clients?	51
The Public	51
The Police Department	54
The Selection of Police	54
A History of Psychology and Police Selection	55
Tools for Psychological Selection	55
The Training of Police	61
The Psychologist's Activities in a Police Department	62
The Curriculum of Training Programs	63
On-the-Job Training	63
Specialized Training: Responses to Spouse Assault	64
Negotiating With Terrorists and Hostage Takers	64

Evaluating Effectiveness of Police Activities	67
Fitness-for-Duty Evaluations	67
Community Policing	68
Summary	69
Key Terms	69
Suggested Readings	69

CHAPTER 4 Criminal Profiling 71

Criminal Profiling and Forensic Psychology	72
Why Develop Criminal Profiles?	72
The Extent of Serial Criminal Behavior	72
Recurring Mysteries	73
False Stereotypes and Simplified Assumptions	74
Current Needs for Profiling	75
Arsonists	75
Serial Bombers	76
What Is Criminal Profiling?	78
Definitions	78
Three Approaches to Criminal Profiling	78
Criminal-Profiling Procedures Used by the Police and the FBI	83
The “Mad Bomber”	85
Procedures	87
How Effective Is Criminal Profiling?	90
Psychological Autopsies in Unexpected or Equivocal Deaths	94
General Guidelines	95
Specific Cases	96
Summary	99
Key Terms	99
Suggested Readings	100

CHAPTER 5 Hypnosis and Lie Detection in Criminal Investigation 101

Forensic Psychology and Police Investigative Techniques	102
Hypnosis in Criminal Investigations	102
Advocacy: Martin Reiser’s Position	102
The “Hillside Strangler” Case	103
Hypnosis of Witnesses and Victims	104
Supportive Research Reviews	104
When Is Hypnosis Beneficial?	104
Conclusions	106
Court Decisions	106
Guidelines	106

The Cognitive Interview	107
The Polygraph Technique	108
Using the Polygraph to Interrogate Criminal Suspects	108
A Psychological Analysis of the Polygraph Procedure	109
The Floyd Fay Case	111
Research Evaluation	112
Criticisms of the Polygraph's Claims of Validity	112
The Current Legal Status	114
The Role of the Psychologist as a Psychometric Expert	116
Summary	118
Key Terms	118
Suggested Readings	119
CHAPTER 6 Improving Eyewitness Identification Procedures	120
Gathering Useful Information From Eyewitnesses	121
System Variables Versus Estimator Variables	122
Improper Police Procedures	122
Questioning Witnesses (Information Generation)	126
Lack of Training	126
Interview Content	126
Failure to Recognize the Dynamics of the Interview	126
Improving the Accuracy of Witnesses' Information	128
Lineups and Photo Arrays	129
Common Errors	131
Operational Rules	132
Children as Eyewitnesses	133
Public Policy Issues	133
Recent Statute-of-Limitation Laws	133
Judges' Decisions on the Admissibility of Expert Testimony	134
Supreme Court Decisions	136
Summary	137
Key Terms	138
Suggested Readings	139
CHAPTER 7 Police Interrogations and Confessions	140
The Importance of a Confession	141
The Paul Ingram Case	141
The Charges	141
Interrogation Procedures	142

Ingram's Response	142
Evaluating the Accuracy of Ingram's Confession	142
The Outcome	143
The Forensic Psychologist and Police Interrogations	143
The Psychology of False Confessions	143
Three Types of False Confessions	143
How Many Confessions Are False?	146
False Confessions in the Laboratory	147
The Role of Police Interrogations in Generating Confessions	147
The Goals of Interrogation	148
What Police Can and Can't Do	150
What Can Psychologists Contribute?	158
The Police as Client	158
The Courts as Client	161
Society as Client	163
Summary	163
Key Terms	164
Suggested Readings	164

CHAPTER 8 Alternative Dispute Resolution and Trial Preparation 166

Overview	167
Forensic Psychologists as Trial Consultants	167
"Trial" Consultant or "Litigation" Consultant?	167
Mediators: A Different Type of Trial Consultant	167
Pretrial Activities	168
Ethical Issues	168
Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR)	169
Examples of Conflict	170
Conflict Resolution Versus Conflict Settlement	170
Third-Party Mediators	171
A Conceptualization of Effective Negotiation	173
Evaluation of Mediation's Effectiveness	174
Change of Venue Requests	174
Origin of Request	174
The Litigation Consultant's Activities	175
Effects of Pretrial Publicity	176
Testifying at a Hearing	177
A Case Study	177
Sequestered Voir Dire	179

Witness Preparation	180
Two Real-Life Examples	180
What Is Proper and What Is Not	182
Organizing the Case	183
Opening Statements	183
Presentation of the Evidence	186
Closing Arguments	187
Summary	187
Key Terms	188
Suggested Readings	188

CHAPTER 9 Jury Selection 190

When Lawyers and Litigation Consultants Disagree	191
Conflicts in Styles and Values	191
Examples of Attorneys' Stereotypes	192
What Do Psychologists Do?	193
Two Approaches to Jury Selection	193
Broad Attitudes and Traits	193
Case-Specific Approaches	194
Measurement of Juror Bias	194
Criminal Trials	194
Civil Trials	200
Case-Specific Approaches	202
The Harrisburg Seven Trial	203
The de la Beckwith Retrial	204
Does Scientific Jury Selection Work?	205
Is It Ethical for Psychologists to Aid in Jury Selection?	206
Juror Investigation	207
Use of Supplemental Juror Questionnaires	208
Discovery and Attorney Work Product	209
Fairness in Jury Selection	210
The Relationship of the Trial Consultant to the Attorney	210
Summary	211
Key Terms	211
Suggested Readings	212

CHAPTER 10 Insanity and Competency 213

Overview	214
Determining Insanity	214
Why Is Determining Insanity Difficult?	214
Differences Between Insanity and Psychosis	214

Psychologists' Roles in Insanity Cases	218
Assessment of Criminal Responsibility	218
Testifying as an Expert Witness	219
The Hinckley Trial	220
The Dahmer Trial	220
Ultimate-Issue Testimony	222
Assessing Competency	224
Competency to Plead Guilty	225
Competency to Stand Trial	225
Competency of Juveniles	229
Risk Assessment	230
Predicting Suicide	230
Predicting Danger to Others	230
Malingering	231
Summary	233
Key Terms	233
Suggested Readings	234
CHAPTER 11 Battered Woman Syndrome and Domestic Violence	235
The Nature of Domestic Violence	236
What Characterizes an Abuser?	236
Roles for the Forensic Psychologist	237
The Extent of Domestic Violence and Spouse Battering	238
Reports of Incidence Rates	238
The National Response	238
Myths About the Battered Woman	239
Empirical Evaluation of the Myths	241
Why These Myths?	241
Battered Woman Syndrome	244
What Is a Syndrome?	244
Components of Battered Woman Syndrome	244
The Relationship of BWS to Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder	245
The Role of the Forensic Psychologist in the Assessment of BWS	246
BWS in Court	248
Battered Women Who Kill Their Abusers	248
Possible Defenses for a Woman Who Has Killed Her Batterer	248
Self-Defense	248
The Insanity Defense	251
Cross-Examination of the Battered Woman	251

Using a Psychologist as an Expert Witness on BWS	252
Reasons for Using an Expert Witness	252
Procedural and Ethical Issues Regarding the Use of Expert Witnesses	254
Admissibility of Expert Testimony	254
The Stance of the Expert Witness—Objectivity or Advocacy?	255
Jurors' Reactions to BWS as Defense Evidence	255
Criticisms of the Use of BWS and the Battered Woman Defense	256
Defense of Women at Trial	257
Perpetuating the Battered Woman Stereotype as a Passive, Helpless Woman	257
The Scientific Validity of BWS	257
Summary	258
Key Terms	258
Suggested Readings	259

CHAPTER 12 Rape Trauma Syndrome 260

A Typical Rape Case	261
Purpose of the Chapter	261
What Is the Rape Trauma Syndrome?	261
Phase I: Acute Crisis Phase	262
Phase II: Long-Term Reactions	264
The Relationship of Rape Trauma Syndrome to Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder	265
What Can a Psychologist Do?	266
Assessment	266
Testimony as an Expert Witness	267
The Issue of Consent	268
Questions About the Behavior of the Alleged Victim	268
Supporting a Claim of Damages in a Civil Suit	268
Testifying as a Defense for Culpable Behavior by a Rape Survivor	268
The Admissibility of Psychological Testimony	269
The Scientific Status of Research on RTS	271
Substituting PTSD for RTS	272
Summary	273
Key Terms	273
Suggested Readings	273

CHAPTER 13 The Sexual Abuse of Children 275

The Emergence of Concern About Sexual Child Abuse	276
The McMartin Preschool Case	276
The Charges and the Trials	276
Sexual Child Abuse in Schools and Day Care Centers	277

Roles for Psychologists	277
Evaluating the Child	277
Assessing Competency to Testify	278
Preparing the Child to Testify	278
Testifying as an Expert Witness	278
Assessing Allegations by a Child	278
Interviewing Techniques	279
The Criterion-Based Content Analysis Technique	280
Using Anatomically Detailed Dolls	281
Suggestions for Improving Procedures	283
Determining Whether a Child Is Competent to Testify	284
Children's Rights When Testifying	285
Psychologists as Expert Witnesses	287
Testimony for the Prosecution	287
Testimony for the Defense	290
Summary	290
Key Terms	291
Suggested Readings	291

CHAPTER 14 Child Custody Decisions 292

The Intensity of Child Custody Disputes	293
What Roles Can Psychologists Play?	294
Marriage Counselor	294
Mediator	294
Child Therapist	295
Court-Appointed Evaluator	296
Expert Witness	297
Applied Researcher	297
Serving the Needs of Three Different Types of Clients	297
The Children	298
The Parents	298
The Judge	298
The Court-Appointed Evaluator Role	298
Standards for Resolution of Custody Disputes	298
Custody Determinations in Mixed-Race Cases or Cases Involving a Homosexual Parent	300
Ethical Issues and Temptations	301
Techniques of Custody Evaluation	303
The Expert Witness Role	309
Ultimate-Opinion Testimony	309
Ethical Considerations	309

The Applied Researcher Role	310
The Effects of Divorce on Children	310
The Effects of Type of Custody	310
Summary	311
Key Terms	313
Suggested Readings	313

CHAPTER 15 Discrimination 314

What Is Discrimination?	315
Prejudice and Discrimination	315
Modern Racism	316
Who Is Discriminated Against?	318
Overview of the Chapter	318
What Can Psychology Contribute?	318
Conceptual Analysis	318
Methodology	319
Court Decisions Regarding Race and Assignment to Special Education Classes	323
Affirmative Action	326
The Courts and Affirmative Action	326
Psychological Contributions	328
Employment Discrimination	330
Hate Crimes	331
Summary	332
Key Terms	332
Suggested Readings	332

CHAPTER 16 Sexual Harassment 334

Increased Awareness of Sexual Harassment	335
Origins of the Term	335
Incidence Rates	335
Highly Publicized Cases	336
Conceptualizations of Sexual Harassment	336
Confusion in the Public	336
Gruber's Typology of Sexual Harassment	337
Fitzgerald's Typology	337
Sexual Harassment Cases in the Courts	338
Two Types of Sexual Harassment	338
Harris v. Forklift Systems, Inc.	339

How Can Psychology Help?	343
Analyzing the Causes of Harassment	343
Distinctions Between Female and Male Victims	344
Measuring Beliefs	344
Predicting the Outcome of Complaints	345
Restructuring the Workplace	345
Summary	346
Key Terms	347
Suggested Readings	347

CHAPTER 17 Death Penalty Trials and Appeals 348

Competent to Be Executed?	349
Why Do Forensic Psychologists Get Involved in Death Penalty Cases?	349
Roles for Forensic Psychologists	349
An Outline of the Process and Possible Roles	349
Is the Psychologist's Role Necessarily That of an Advocate?	351
Social-Psychological Research and Evaluation Research on the Death Penalty	352
Convictions and Executions of Innocent Persons	352
Estimating the Number of Wrong Convictions	353
The Execution of Innocent People	355
The Case of Randall Dale Adams	356
Trial-Related Reasons for Incorrect Convictions	357
Appellate Courts and the Death Penalty	360
The U.S. Supreme Court's Reaction to Death Penalty Appeals	362
Specific Activities of the Forensic Psychologist	363
Mitigation Assessment	363
Competency Evaluations	363
Evaluating Defense Arguments	366
Research on the Effects of the Death Penalty	367
Summary	369
Key Terms	370
Suggested Readings	370

CHAPTER 18 Influencing Public Policy 371

Applying Psychological Knowledge to Legal Policy Decisions	372
Psychologists and Legislatures	372
Psychologists and Executive Branch Decisions	373
Psychologists and the Courts	373

The Use of Amicus Briefs	373
History of the Relationship Between Psychology and the Courts	374
Direct Attempts to Influence the Courts	375
Ballew v. Georgia: Too Little Too Late?	375
Involvement by the American Psychological Association	378
Classifying APA Briefs	378
The Goals of APA Science-Translation Briefs	379
The Effectiveness of APA Briefs	379
How Is Effectiveness Measured?	379
Is It Better to Be Ignored or Rejected?	380
APA Amicus Briefs and Supreme Court Decisions	381
Ake v. Oklahoma: An Example of Less Discernible Input	382
Lockhart v. McCree: A Rejection of the APA's Brief	385
What Can Be Learned From Analysis of Individual Cases?	388
The Potency of Deeply Held Values	388
Identifying and Representing the Goals of Psychologists Accurately	388
Summary	390
Key Terms	391
Suggested Readings	391
References	393
Name Index	433
Subject Index	445