

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
A Psychotherapist's Dilemma	1
THEORETICAL ISSUES
Chapter 1. Moving Beyond the Debate: Theoretical Perspectives	9
Psychoanalytic Drive Theory	9
Cognitive Psychological Theory	15
Folkloristic Studies	19
Sociology of Knowledge	21
First-Time Telling	26
Chapter 2. Revisionist Vocabulary	27
Child Sexual Abuse	28
Re-Collections	29
Life Narrative	31
"Self"	33
Dis-Integrated Re-Collection	34
Epiphany Experience	37
Integration	38
DISCLOSURE ISSUES
Chapter 3. From Disclosure to Integration: Processing Re-Collections of Sexual Abuse	41
A Theory of Re-Collection	43
Chapter 4. First-Time Stories: The Structure of Therapy	53
First-Time Disclosure in the Group Setting	54

Chapter 5. First-Time Stories: The Interactional Context	69
Interactional Strategies	70
Structural Context	75
The First-Time Stories	76
Triangulation Interviews	84
CLINICAL TECHNIQUES
Chapter 6. Therapeutic Implications	95
Traumatic Stories As Life Narratives	96
Therapist Nonaction	103
Controlling the Process	105
Chapter 7. Therapeutic Techniques	109
Setting the Stage	110
Making Choices, Taking Responsibility	119
Summary: The Components of Successful Therapy	123
Chapter 8. Special Considerations for Special Populations	127
General Guidelines for Work with Special Populations	128
Specific Needs of Special Population Groups	131
Conclusion	136
Chapter 9. Troubleshooting	137
Unique Client Populations	138
The Role of Family	145
Work in the Context of the Treatment Team	147
Editing the Traumatic Story	149
Appendix: Research Methods	153
Research Questions	153
Method	154
Participants and Setting	154
Data Collection	156
References	161
Index	167