

Table of Contents

1	Issue: management decisions as group decisions	1
2	Formalizing the objectives of shareholders and managers	3
2.1	The shareholders' objective	3
2.2	The managers' objective	4
3	The boards' decision making process	5
3.1	Managers' individual estimation of the alternatives	6
3.2	Board discussion	6
3.3	Voting of the board	7
4	Results: influence of situation and control on decision quality	10
4.1	The interplay of personal interests, qualification, and reward	11
4.2	The importance of the number of board members	12
4.3	The influence of strategic behaviour	14
4.4	The managers' risk aversion	16
4.5	The managers' tendency to conform	17
4.6	The influence of the type of voting procedure	19
5	Conclusions	21
	Literature	23