

Contents

Acknowledgements	viii
Series editor's preface	ix
Introduction	1
 Part One
1 Conceptualizing social exclusion: the political foundations – classical and neo-liberal	19
The possessive individualists – blaming the poor	20
Residuums, underclasses and redundant populations	23
Citizenship?	25
2 Order, solidarity and transformation: collectivist political traditions	33
Capitalism can be tamed – the social market and related approaches	38
The politics of transformation – Marxist and related perspectives	41
The industrial reserve army	42
Regulation theory: transition codified – postindustrial capitalism: the means specified	44
Social proletarians – underdevelopment as exclusion	47
Conclusion	50
3 Conceptualizing social exclusion: the language and social science of social exclusion	52
Social exclusion as discourse – the language of caring neo-liberalism	54

vi Social exclusion

From definition to measurement: 'social exclusion in applied social research'	61
Conclusion	66
4 Dynamic society – dynamic lives	67
Postindustrial, postmodern, post-socialist?: advanced industrial societies in the twenty-first century	67
The complex dynamics of social exclusion	75
Understanding the complexity of dynamics	78

Part Two

5 The dynamics of income inequality	85
From relative equality to inequality: the phase shift in income distributions	85
The changing pattern of income distribution in the countries of the North	87
Why have income distributions become more unequal?	92
Gender and income inequality	98
Race/ethnicity and exclusion	101
The exclusion of the young in postindustrial capitalism	103
Dynamics – the significance of life courses	107
Making it unequal: the role of postindustrial policy	109
The new enclosure	110
6 Divided spaces: social division in the postindustrial city	115
Divided cities – the reality	118
Race/ethnicity and exclusion through space	120
Gender and exclusion through space	122
Age and social exclusion through space	124
Communities?	125
Making excluding space: the role of social policies	129
Conclusion	131
7 Divided lives – exclusion in everyday life	133
Education and mobility in the industrial era	134
Education and closure in the postindustrial era	138
Cultural exclusion	143
Cities of cultural exclusion	144
Exclusion and health	146

Part Three

8 Including the excluded: the policy agenda of the third way	151
The Social Exclusion Unit: the new forms of policy development and implementation	152

Speenhamland come again – fiscal redistribution and Welfare to Work	154
Catch them young and give them a chance – Sure Start	157
Rescuing the drop-outs – Connexions in practice	159
Getting the place to work through getting the people involved – New Deal for Communities and Local Strategic Partnerships	161
Conclusion	168
9 Against exclusion: the radical alternative	169
The excluded many, the ‘at risk’ most, and the excluding few	170
Can we do nothing? Is politics powerless?	174
The cultural front: what we need to change – empowerment in postindustrial and post-democratic capitalism	176
Bibliography	183
Index	194