Preface to the Third Edition xi

PART 1 FRAMEWORK 1
1 Guide to This Book 3
2 Qualitative Research–Why and How To Do It 11
3 Qualitative and Quantitative Research 32
4 Ethics of Qualitative Research 44

PART 2 FROM THEORY TO TEXT 55
5 Making Use of Literature in Qualitative Research 57
6 Theoretical Positions Underlying Qualitative Research 65
7 Epistemological Background: Construction and Understanding of Texts 82

PART 3 RESEARCH DESIGN 95
8 The Qualitative Research Process 97
9 Research Questions 105
10 Entering the Field 113
11 Sampling 122
12 How to Design Qualitative Research: An Overview 135

PART 4 VERBAL DATA 147
13 Interviews 149
14 Narratives 172
15 Focus Groups 189
16 Verbal Data: An Overview 204

PART 5 MULTIFOCUS DATA 213
17 Observation and Ethnography 215
18 Visual Data: Photography, Film, and Video 233
19 Using Documents as Data 245
20 Qualitative Online Research: Using the Internet 254
21 Multifocus Data: An Overview 271

PART 6 FROM TEXT TO THEORY 281
22 Documentation of Data 283
23 Coding and Categorizing 295
24 Analyzing Conversation, Discourse, and Genres 319
25 Narrative and Hermeneutic Analysis 330
26 Using Computers in Qualitative Analysis 342
27 Text Interpretation: An Overview 356

PART 7 GROUNDING AND WRITING QUALITATIVE RESEARCH 365
28 Quality Criteria in Qualitative Research 367
29 The Quality of Qualitative Research: Beyond Criteria 384
30 Writing and the Future of Qualitative Research–Art or Method? 398

BOXES

2.1	A Preliminary List of Qualitative Research Features	14
2.2	Schools of Qualitative Research	24
2.3	Trends and Developments	27
6.1	Features of Qualitative Research: Completed List	76
10.1	Roles in the Field	119
11.1	Sampling Strategies in Qualitative Research	131
13.1	Example Questions from the Focused Interview	151
13.2	Example Questions from the Adulthood Interview	153
13.3	Example Questions from the Semi-Standardized Interview	156
13.4	Example Questions from the Problem-Centred Interview	162
13.5	Key Points for Evaluating Questions in Interviews	167
14.1	Example of a Generative Narrative Question in the Narrative Interview	174
14.2	Example Questions from the Episodic Interview	184
15.1	Example of a Discussion Stimulus in a Group Discussion	195
15.2	Examples for Beginning a Focus Group	198
17.1	Features of Ethnographic Research	228
18.1	Instruction for the Photo Interview	236
20.1	Research Questions for Virtual Ethnography	263
22.1	Field Notes in Practice	286
22.2	Example of a Documentation Sheet	289
22.3	Transcription Conventions	290
22.4	Rules for Transcription and an Example	291
22.5	Example from a Transcript	292
23.1	Example of Segmentation and Open Coding	297
23.2	Example of Line-by-Line Coding	299

23.3	Example of a Short Description of a Case	308
23.4	Example of the Thematic Structure of Case Analyses in Thematic Coding	309
24.1	Methodological Precepts for Conversation Analytic Studies	321
25.1	The Sequence of Stages in the Practical Analysis	332
25.2	Levels of Interpretation in Objective Hermeneutics	336
26.1	Guiding Questions for Analyzing and Comparing Computer Programs in Qualitative Research	347
28.1	Conventions for Field Notes	370
28.2	Criteria for Theory Development in Qualitative Research	379
29.1	Steps of Analytic Induction	391
29.2	Principles of Quality Management in the Qualitative Research Process	395

FIGURES

3.1	Research Designs for the Integration of Qualitative and Quantitative Research	36
3.2	Levels of Triangulation of Qualitative and Quantitative Research	37
6.1	Research Perspectives in Qualitative Research	74
7.1	Understanding between Construction and Interpretation	85
7.2	Process of Mimesis	88
8.1	Models of Process and Theory	102
9.1	Research Questions in the Research Process	107
10.1	Membership Roles in the Field	115
12.1	Components of Qualitative Research Design	141
12.2	Basic Designs in Qualitative Research	144
13.1	Excerpt from a Subjective Theory on Trust in Counseling	158
14.1	Forms of Knowledge in the Episodic Interview	181
23.1	The Paradigm Model	301
26.1	Origin of AIDS Represented in a Themotic Network Produced with Atlas•ti	353
30.1	Grounding the Text	405

TABLES

2.1	Phases in the History of Qualitative Research	20
2.2	Research Perspectives in Qualitative Research	22
6.1	Theoretical Positions in Qualitative Research	75
9.1	Types of Research Questions	110
11.1	Sampling Decisions in the Research Process	123
11.2	Example of a Sampling Structure with Dimensions Given in Advance	125
11.3	Theoretical versus Statistical Sampling	128
11.4	Example of a Sample Structure Resulting from the Process	128
16.1	Comparison of Methods for Collecting Verbal Data	206
16.2	Checklist for Selecting an Interview Type and Evaluating its Application	209
17.1	Dependability of Observations	226
21.1	Comparison of Methods for Collecting Multifocus Data	273
21.2	Checklist for Selecting a Multifocus Data Method and Evaluating its Application	277
23.1	Coding Families	303
23.2	Thematic Coding of Subjective Definitions of Technology	311
27.1	Comparison of Methods for the Interpretation of Data	358
27.2	Checklist for Selecting a Method of Interpretation and Evaluating its Application	361
29.1	Indication of Qualitative Research Methods	386
29.2	Checklist for Selecting a Qualitative Research Method	386
29.3	Rules of Thumb and Key Questions for Choosing Research Steps and Methods	388
