

Contents

Introduction	1
Section 1: Access versus Protection
Chapter 1: From 1966 to 2005: Balancing Protection and Access in Pediatric Research	12
Chapter 2: Access versus Protection: Minority Representation in Pediatric Research	44
Section 2: Challenges to the Regulations
Chapter 3: Overview of the Common Rule and Subpart D	63
Chapter 4: Should We Provide Healthy Children with Greater Protection in Medical Research?	76
Chapter 5: Informed Consent in Pediatric Research	87
Chapter 6: Phase I Research and the Meaning of 'Prospect of Direct Benefit'	104
Section 3: Strengths and Limits of Current Regulations
Chapter 7: Human Subject Protections in Published Pediatric Research	116
Chapter 8: Payment in Pediatric Research	130
Chapter 9: Research in Schools	154
Section 4: Case Studies
Chapter 10: Minimizing Risks: Diabetes Research in Newborns	171
Chapter 11: Diabetes Prediction and Prevention Research in Childhood	191
Chapter 12: Lead Abatement Research	206
Chapter 13: Clinical Asthma Trials	220
Chapter 14: Research not Otherwise Approvable: A Look at One 407 Protocol	243
Chapter 15: Evolution of the 407 Process	259
Epilogue	277
Index	279